

Kellogg Institute for International Studies

ANNUAL REPORT 2009-2010

MISSION STATEMENT

The Helen Kellogg Institute for International Studies promotes comparative international research on themes relevant to contemporary society. Building on a core interest in Latin America, the Institute fosters research on many regions of the world.

It supports the research and educational mission of the University of Notre Dame by providing faculty, students, and visiting scholars with a supportive intellectual community.

It attempts to project the University onto the global stage and to expand understanding of democracy, development, social justice, and important international problems facing humanity. The Institute forms an integral part of Notre Dame's Catholic mission by addressing normative and scholarly concerns that embody the values reflected in Catholic social thought.

"The Kellogg Institute embodies what we want to do throughout the University: scholarly leadership, profound and powerful educational experiences for our students, and the distinctive values and traditions of a Catholic university."

—Rev. John I. Jenkins, CSC,
President of the University of Notre Dame

Kanyamibwa Erasto, village leader in the Ford Program community development initiative, Nnindy Parish, Uganda (see page 28)

Cover photo by Matt Cashore

At the Kellogg Institute, we strive to forge areas of research excellence while supporting a wide range of research in international studies, to create educational programs that transform students' lives, and to build linkages across campus and to partners around the world.

In 2009–10, after a two-year hiatus, I returned as Institute director, newly energized to work with the Institute's staff and with my faculty colleagues. Together, we have had an exciting year. I would like to share some personal highlights:

■ Kellogg's efforts to expand Notre Dame's teaching and research expertise on economic growth and human development are paying off. Through collaboration between the Department of Economics and the Institute and through the efforts of the Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity, we have helped hire five faculty members who work on these themes (see page 41). Now a part of the Kellogg community, these new scholars are bolstering our capacity to contribute toward understanding what works in development and what does not.

The Ford Program has created new energy and enthusiasm among undergraduates interested in development, and has just launched a new, very selective minor in development studies (see page 22).

For a generation, we have been known for our work on democratization and on Latin American politics. Over the next five years, we aim to continue creating more research and teaching expertise on economic growth and human development.

■ With the support of the Institute's first collaborative faculty grant, Faculty Fellow Michael Coppedge is launching a major new initiative on measuring and tracking democracy around the world. His project should help keep Kellogg at the forefront of democratization studies (see page 11).

■ New gifts and grants will enable us to undertake important new ventures and to continue supporting projects that are near and dear to us. Roberto Garza's ongoing commitment in support of Mexican studies will allow us to do more in research, education, and linkages to Mexico. A grant from the Coca-Cola Foundation extends our long-term relationship with Coca-Cola, which will continue to support the Notre Dame Prize for Distinguished Public Service in Latin America (see page 29). An Undergraduate International Studies and Foreign Language Program grant from the Department of Education has deepened our capacity in Asian studies (see page 30).

■ In the spring and summer, we invested a great deal of time into a new strategic plan, which we will finalize this fall. It has been highly energizing to think with a wide range of interested parties about our goals and how to realize them in research, education, and internal and external linkages.

■ Linkages to the rest of the world are critically important to the Kellogg Institute. Two highlights for me were a trip to Chile in November 2009 to award the Notre Dame Prize for Distinguished Public Service in Latin America to the great human rights lawyer, José Zalaquett, and to explore creating a new hub for Notre Dame in Santiago, and a trip to Uganda in May 2010 to develop our collaboration with Uganda Martyrs University and to enhance our on-the-ground development project there.

■ Finally, it is always great fun and humanly and intellectually enriching to interact with the outstanding undergraduate and graduate students the Kellogg Institute supports, with our distinguished visiting fellows, and with the entire Kellogg community.

I'm grateful to the superb staff of the Kellogg Institute, to my many generous and talented faculty colleagues, to Notre Dame's leadership for its support, to our Advisory Board, and to many other external collaborators.

Scott Mainwaring
Scott Mainwaring
Director

Faculty Research

At the core of the Kellogg Institute's many programs in international studies are faculty members—and their research on topics of global importance. Working independently or in collaboration with other scholars, Kellogg faculty fellows produce publications, organize conferences and working groups, influence public policy, and undertake public service. In their pursuit of scholarly excellence and value-driven research, they contribute to the understanding of democracy, development, and important international problems facing Latin America and the world. Together, they create a vibrant intellectual community.

2009–10 Highlights

Faculty Fellow JEFFREY H. BERGSTRAND and his collaborator Scott Baier had their paper recognized as one of the “Top 20 Most-Cited Articles” published in the Journal of International Economics (2005–09). The paper—“Do Free Trade Agreements Actually Increase Members’ International Trade?”—presents an innovative method of overcoming bias in the calculation of the value of free trade agreements. The authors definitively showed for the first time that such agreements significantly increase trade between member countries.

Faculty Fellow MICHAEL COPPEDGE is the recipient of the Kellogg Institute's first collaborative faculty grant for “Measuring Democracy,” an ambitious project to produce new indicators of dozens of aspects of democracy for all countries since 1900. Involving collaboration with a dozen other researchers in the US and Europe, the multiyear effort promises to help keep the Kellogg Institute at the forefront of research on democratization. (See page 11.)

Faculty fellows REV. ROBERT DOWD, CSC, and REV. PAUL KOLLMAN, CSC, were awarded a $100,000 grant from the Pentecostal and Charismatic Research Initiative of the University of Southern California, funded by the Templeton Foundation. The grant will support Dowd and Kollman's study of the Roman Catholic Charismatic Movement in sub-Saharan Africa. Focusing on Kenya, Nigeria, and South Africa, they will assess the impact of the movement on the prospects for economic growth, development, and democracy, as well as on the future of the Catholic Church in the region.

Faculty Fellow REV. GUSTAVO GUTIÉRREZ, OP, received the Jorge Dintilhac Medal from La Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú in March. The highest honor given by the university, the medal honors the Christian values of the recipient, as well as significant contributions to Peru. As noted at the presentation, “Fr. Gutiérrez is the country's most recognized theologian, whose work calls for an interdisciplinary analysis of social reality in Latin America.”

“Kellogg is in a wonderful position to take all of the richness of scholarship in the social sciences and show the bearing, ultimately, on peace and justice, the great benefits that come from creating order in the midst of human turmoil in the world.”

—Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, CSC
Founder of the Kellogg Institute

“I have seen first-hand the extraordinary research being conducted by Kellogg faculty and by the fascinating visiting fellows who enrich our international, intellectual community each year. Kellogg's broad and deep focus on global issues is an essential component of Notre Dame's educational mandate. The cross-cultural interactions that result from Kellogg's structure and support are truly of worldwide significance.”

—Faculty Fellow Susan Blum
Professor of Anthropology

Faculty Fellow SEMION LYANDRES won a 2010–11 National Endowment for the Humanities Fellowship for the project “The Fall of Tsarism: Untold Stories of the February 1917 Revolution.”

Faculty fellows SCOTT P. MAINWARING and R. SCOTT APPLEBY were elected fellows of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences (AAAS), one of the nation's most prestigious honorary societies. Established in 1780 by John Adams and other founders of the nation, the Academy counts among its members scholars and practitioners from many disciplines and professions, giving it a unique capacity to conduct a wide range of interdisciplinary, long-term policy research.

Mainwaring has written widely on democratization in Latin America, with particular attention to the distinctive role of political parties in the new democracies of the region. Appleby's research examines the roots of religious violence and the potential of religious peacebuilding.

The two join five other Kellogg Institute faculty fellows who are AAAS members: ROBERTO DAMATTA, REV. GUSTAVO GUTIÉRREZ, OP, SABINE G. MACCORMACK, GUILLELMO O'DONNELL, and LAWRENCE E. SULLIVAN. Also named to the body this year is the REV. JOHN JENKINS, CSC, president of the University of Notre Dame.

Faculty Fellow CAROLYN NORDSTROM won the Society for Economic Anthropology (SEA) Book Prize for Global Outlaws: Crime, Money, and Power in the Contemporary World (University of California Press, 2007). In the words of one judge, “Nordstrom brings out the values, ethics and morals surrounding the illegal and the informal and illuminates the complexities and contradictions around them.”

Faculty Fellow KAREN RICHMAN is the recipient (with former Faculty Fellow TERESA GHILARDUCCI) of a $125,000 grant from the National Endowment for Financial Education (NEFE) to investigate how social and cultural factors impact Mexican immigrants' savings for retirement.

Faculty Research

Honors, Grants, and Professional Distinctions

SUSAN BLUM gave keynote addresses on plagiarism and college culture at Zayed University in the United Arab Emirates and the University of Michigan.

JORGE BUSTAMANTE was honored by the University of Guadalajara on March 9 for his 40 years of work and research at the conference “Effects of the Simpson-Rodino Mexican Law towards the United States.”

In January, he gave the keynote “The Human Rights of Migrants” at the conference “The Right to Education of International Migrants, Refugees and Asylum Seekers: Challenges and Concerns,” hosted by the Open Society Foundation in London. He also was the keynote speaker at the Global Consultation on Migrant Health hosted by the WHO, among others, in Madrid in March.

PAOLO CAROZZA was promoted to full professor and associate dean for international and graduate studies at the Notre Dame Law School.

MICHAEL COPPEDGE was appointed to the American Political Science Association (APSA) Gabriel A. Almond Award Committee and the APSA President’s Task Force on Democracy Audits and Governmental Indicators.

AMITAVA DUTT received a research grant from the Schwartz Center for Economic Policy Analysis at the New School for the paper “Long-term Implications of Short-term Fluctuations,” coauthored with JAIME ROS.

REV. VIRGILIO ELIZONDO received the 2010 Jerome Award from the Catholic Library Association in April in recognition of outstanding contributions and commitment to excellence in scholarship.

KAREN GRAUBART was named the Carl Koch Associate Professor of History.

REV. DANIEL GROODY, CSC, was promoted to associate professor of theology.

REV. GUSTAVO GUTIÉRREZ, OP, received Elmhurst College’s highest honor, the Niebuhr Medal, in a September 20 ceremony in recognition of “his lifetime of service to humanity, especially the poor.” The medal advances the tradition of Elmhurst alumni Reinhold and H. Richard Niebuhr, two of the most influential theologians of their time.

DEBRA JAVELINE is part of a team awarded a $100,000 grant by the Provost’s Strategic Action Planning Committee for the project “Notre Dame Collaboratory for Adaptation to Climate Change.” In the interdisciplinary effort, she is leading a survey of the world’s top environmental biologists on how they assess the scientific, ethical, economic, and legal issues surrounding wildlife adaptation to climate change.

RICHARD JENSEN, with David Lodge of the Department of Biological Sciences, received a $2.47 million grant from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) for the research project “Forecasting Spread and Bioeconomic Impacts of Aquatic Invasive Species from Multiple Pathways to Improve Management and Policy in the Great Lakes.”

“The Kellogg Institute has always been a great place to do work on big questions that matter to real people. I like the interdisciplinarity of the place and the constant engagement with scholars from all over the world. The Kellogg Institute generates a community of scholars that you don’t find in very many other places.”

— Faculty Fellow Daniel Brinks

Associate Professor of Political Science and Concurrent Professor of Law

“Being a Kellogg fellow connects me with colleagues in related fields, and lets me look over their shoulders: I learn from their research, I benefit from the scholars and public figures they bring to campus, my students seek them out. It’s an organic and brilliant way for us to cooperate while doing our own work.”

— Faculty Fellow Karen Graubart

Carl Koch Associate Professor of History

ROBERT C. JOHANSEN received the Outstanding Lifetime Contribution to Peace Studies Award from the Peace and Justice Studies Association (PJSa). He was lauded for his seminal scholarly work on strengthening international institutions and their role in international peace building and for his lifetime of public speaking and advocacy for peace.

KWAN S. KIM delivered the keynote “Global Capitalism and Current Global Recession” at the Fourth International Conference of Economics, Ethics, and Current Dynamics of Capitalism, held at Universidad Santo Tomas in Bogota, Colombia in October.

REV. PAUL KOLLMAN, CSC, was promoted to associate professor of theology.

SCOTT MAINWARING was appointed to the International Advisory Board of the AmericasBarometer.

MARISEL MORENO was awarded a 2009–10 American Fellowship by the American Association of University Women to work on her project, “Ties That Bind,” which examines the work of female Puerto Rican authors.

GUILLERMO O’DONNELL was awarded honorary degrees in October by the National University of Córdoba and Catholic University of Córdoba in Argentina. In December, he received a “Doctor Honoris Causa” from the University of Chile and, in March, an honorary doctorate from Argentina’s National University of San Luis.

REV. ROBERT PELTON, CSC received the John Cardinal O’Hara Award from the University of Notre Dame Alumni Association in honor of “his outstanding achievements and distinguished service to the University.”

JAIME PENSADO was funded by the Fundación Ortega y Gasset in Toledo, Spain to present the course “Art and Revolution” in summer 2010.

JAIME ROS gave a keynote address to the annual meeting of Mexico’s National Association of Economics Students, held in San Luis Potosi, Mexico.

STEPHEN E. SILLIMAN presented the keynote “Groundwater Project in Benin, West Africa: Advances, Challenges, and Student Opportunities” at the Oklahoma Water Conference, held at the University of Oklahoma in October. Additionally, he was named the 2011 Henry Darcy Distinguished Lecturer by the National Ground Water Research and Educational Foundation.

JUAN VITULLI received a fellowship funded by the Andrew W. Mellon and Donald L. Saunders foundations at the John Carter Brown Library for the summer and fall of 2010.

Faculty Research

Kellogg Institute Grants to Notre Dame Faculty

The Kellogg Institute awarded 17 grants to 17 members of the Notre Dame faculty during the 2009–10 academic year to support research projects, professional collaboration, course development, travel, and event sponsorship.

SIMEON ALDER, assistant professor of economics, received a travel grant to conduct research and collaborate with a coauthor at the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank in August.

THOMAS ANDERSON, associate professor of romance languages and literatures, received a grant to develop a new course on human rights, development, and social justice in Latin America, as seen through literature and film.

VIVA BARTKUS, associate professor of management, received funding to support a research initiative examining the role of international and local businesses in rebuilding war-torn economies. With Bartkus, MBA students gathered data for the project in Lebanon, Kenya, and Uganda as part of the course “Business on the Frontlines” (see page 26).

MICHAEL COPPEDGE, professor of political science, received a collaborative faculty grant to work with a dozen other researchers in the US and Europe to develop new indicators of democracy (see page 11). Part of the award supports a new Kellogg Working Group on Democracy, Human Rights, and Social Equality.

REV. ROBERT DOWD, CSC, assistant professor of political science, was awarded funding to complete his book project “Christianity, Islam, and Liberal Democracy in Africa” at the Centre for the Study of African Economics at the University of Oxford.

GEORGES ENDERLE, the John T. Ryan Jr. Chair in International Business Ethics, and JONATHAN NOBLE, the provost’s advisor for Asia Initiatives, received a grant to develop the six-week summer course “Business and Culture in China” as part of the Asian Studies Initiative funded by the US Department of Education’s Undergraduate International Studies and Foreign Languages (UISFL) Program (see page 30). They led 20 students to Taiwan, Beijing, Shanghai, and Hong Kong during summer 2010.

REV. DANIEL GROODY, CSC, associate professor of theology, received a grant to facilitate research for his book project on the theology of international migration.

REV. PAUL KOLLMAN, CSC, associate professor of theology, received a renewal of funding for the Africa Working Group, which he cochairs with REV. ROBERT DOWD, CSC. The group provides a forum for resident faculty, graduate students, and outside scholars to present and discuss cutting-edge research on Africa.

RAHUL OKA, assistant professor of anthropology, received funding for the Development Studies Working Group, which he chairs. The group draws together graduate students, faculty, and other members of the Notre Dame community interested in international development to share ideas, funding opportunities, and real-world experience. He also received a grant to explore market-based approaches to disaster relief in Kenya in the project “Local Trade Networks and Regional Disasters: Incorporating Values-Driven and Market-Based Approaches into Humanitarian Relief Operations.”

REV. ROBERT PELTON, CSC, director of Latin American/North American Church Concerns (LANACC), received funding to travel to Italy to conduct research on Archbishop Óscar Romero and Catholic Social Teaching.

KAREN RICHMAN, director of the Center for Migration and Border Studies at the Institute for Latino Studies, received a grant to conduct ethnographic research in Haiti for her project “The Impact of the Earthquake on Religion in Haiti: Continuities and Discontinuities.”

PAMELA ROBERTSON WOJCIK, associate professor of film, television, and theatre and senior fellow of the Gender Studies Program, received funding for an international interdisciplinary conference, “GPS: Gender, Place and Space,” held in March 2010 at Notre Dame.

Ford Program Exploratory Research Funding

CATHERINE BOLTEN, assistant professor of anthropology and peace studies, was awarded funding to conduct ethnographic fieldwork for the project “Educating ‘Youth’ in Northern Sierra Leone.”

TAMO CHATTOPADHAY, assistant professor of practice and director of international educational development at the Institute for Educational Initiatives, received funding for the project “Exploring Secondary Education Pathways in Uganda.”

“The Kellogg Institute intellectual tradition is a robustly interdisciplinary one—which explores, indeed helps to construct, the conversation among discrete disciplinary and sub-disciplinary literatures, all in the search for meaningful answers to large questions about democracy and development. Actually participating in and contributing to interdisciplinary work requires a major investment of time to usefully draw on multiple literatures so as to stitch together connections among them. I have been able to do that in new and fruitful ways thanks to the Kellogg Institute.”

— Faculty Fellow Robert Fishman
Professor of Sociology

MOLLY LIPSCOMB, assistant professor of economics and econometrics, received a Ford Program seed grant for her project “Keeping Gray Water Out of the Streets: A Randomized Experiment on Sanitation in Senegal.” She examined the use of gray water disposal technology to improve health outcomes in Dakar and Saint-Louis slums where sanitation, already poor, is worsened by flooding during the rainy season.

SABINE MacCORMACK, Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, CSC, Professor of Arts and Letters, received a research grant to conduct fieldwork in the archives of the Real Academia in Madrid for the project “Natural Philosophy, History and Theology in the Writings of José de Acosta, SJ (1540–1600).”

MONIKA NALEPA, assistant professor of political science, was awarded a research grant to conduct fieldwork in Poland for her new project “Strategies of Party Influence and Survival in the Polish Parliament.”

JONATHAN NOBLE, the provost’s advisor for Asia Initiatives, HOWARD GOLDBLATT, director of the Center for Asian Studies and research professor of Chinese, and GEORGES ENDERLE, the John T. Ryan Jr. Chair in International Business Ethics, received a conference grant to organize part III of the “Church in Asia” series, which will take the form of a joint conference on Christianity in Asia to be held at the Chinese University of Hong Kong in May 2011.

Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity

Visiting Fellows and Guest Scholars

The Visiting Fellows Program

The Institute's signature Visiting Fellows Program, which brings outstanding scholars to the University from around the world, offers numerous opportunities for intellectual collaboration between faculty and visiting fellows and builds ties between Notre Dame and an international network of scholars and institutions.

Visiting fellowships promote interdisciplinary international research with a particular emphasis on democratization, economic and human development, and religion and society. The residential program offers fellows time to move a research project forward in an intellectually stimulating environment, share findings, and collaborate with top scholars from across the US and around the globe.

As members of a scholarly community, fellows interact with leading scholars one-on-one and through the Institute's seminars and lectures, international conferences, roundtable discussions on world affairs, and cultural events.

Taylor Boas

Department of Political Science
Boston University
"Electoral Strategies, Campaign Consultants, and the Quality of Democracy in Post-Transition Countries"
Academic Year 2009–10

Luis Cosenza

Hewlett Visiting Fellow for Public Policy
Cosenza & Cia, Honduras
"Strengthening the Rule of Law in Small, Developing Countries"
Fall

Tiago Fernandes

Department of Political and Social Sciences
European University Institute, Florence
"Patterns of Associational Life in Western Europe, 1870–1970: A Comparative and Historical Interpretation"
Academic Years 2009–11

Duncan Green

Oxfam GB
"From Poverty to Power"
8/29/09–9/12/09

Carlos Guevara Mann

Department of Political Science
University of Nevada, Reno
"Career Paths and Representatives' Motivations: A Comparison of Deputies' Behavior in Chile and Panama"
Spring

Benjamin Junge

Department of Anthropology
State University of New York, New Paltz
"Citizenship Appeals: Neoliberalism, Participatory Democracy, and Gender in Porto Alegre, Brazil"
Spring

Daniel Kselman

Department of Political Science
Duke University
"Electoral Institutions, Intra-Party Competition, and Political Conflict"
Fall

Victoria Langland

Department of History
University of California, Davis
"Speaking of Flowers: Student Movements and Memories of 1968 in Military Brazil"
Fall

Cas Mudde

Department of Political Science
University of Antwerp, Belgium
"To the Left? To the Right? Explaining Populism(s) in Europe and Latin America"
Academic Year 2009–10

Valeria Palanza

Department of Political Science
Princeton University
"Lawmaking in Separation of Powers Systems"
Fall

Amy Reynolds

Department of Sociology
Princeton University
"Challenging Corporations: Religious Development Organizations and Market Opportunities for Coffee Farmers"
Spring

Mariela Szwarcberg

Department of Political Science
University of Chicago
"Making Local Democracy: Political Machines, Clientelism, and Social Networks in Latin America"
Academic Year 2009–10

"...an extremely collegial environment. It is not often that a scholar has the chance to focus on writing without other logistical or teaching demands."

—Amy Reynolds
Princeton University

"The Kellogg experience was absolutely fantastic. The year was intellectually the most challenging since I left graduate school over twelve years ago."

—Cas Mudde
University of Antwerp, Belgium

Guest Scholars

The Guest Scholars program brings to Notre Dame externally funded visiting scholars from other institutions to conduct independent research. Guest scholars become members of our interdisciplinary community; participate in Institute events, seminars, lectures, and other academic activities; and contribute to the rich intellectual life of the University. Although this program carries no financial assistance, the Institute provides support services that help visitors advance their research.

César Gonzalez Cantón

Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona
Spring

Isabel de Assis Ribeiro de Oliveira

Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro
Fall

Salvador Padilla Hernandez

Universidad Michoacana, Michoacán, Mexico
Spring

André Luiz Coelho Farias de Souza

Instituto Universitário de Pesquisas do Rio de Janeiro
Fall

Gerald Telfort

Fulbright Scholar
Ministry of Agriculture, Haiti
Fall

Collaborative Projects

Collaboration is the lifeblood of scholarly communities and nowhere more so than at the Kellogg Institute. In a convivial atmosphere where interdisciplinary investigation is welcomed, faculty fellows, visiting fellows, visiting scholars, and graduate students frequently come together to work on joint projects. Hallway conversations lead to collaboration on an article or book; international conferences grow out of collaboration across disciplines; new scholarly projects are sparked by questions raised at a scholarly event. Institute working groups take advantage of this kind of synergy on a short- or long-term basis.

Research Partnerships with Uganda Martyrs and Purdue Universities

Research partnerships with other universities are an integral part of the approach of the Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity to studying and advancing human development in Uganda. In 2009–10, Ford strengthened collaborations with:

- Uganda Martyrs University (UMU), the country's premier Catholic university and a close partner in the program's community engagement efforts in Uganda;
- Purdue University's International Programs in Agriculture and Discovery Park, both known for their technical expertise.

Water Summit

March 1 and 29, 2010

In March, the Ford Program organized a two-part "Water Summit," bringing together researchers from Notre Dame, Purdue, and UMU to develop cross-university research teams to focus on development challenges in water and sanitation. During the summit, participants reported on progress being made on existing research projects and shared ideas for new collaborative projects.

Research Planning Workshop

May 5–7, 2010

A Ford Program–funded planning workshop led by UMU Director of Research CHARLES SSEKYEWA was held at Uganda Martyrs University in May to identify concrete areas for collaboration. Research teams formed around the six broad themes that emerged from the more than 60 topics discussed:

- Water and environment
- Gender, technology, and ethical social transformation
- Curricula innovation for sustainable development
- Agriculture sustainability and development
- Entrepreneurship and development
- Indigenous knowledge in development

With teams headed by principal investigators in place, the research themes will guide future collaboration between the three universities. (For more on the Ford Program, see page 28.)

"The Ford Program is capitalizing on what's best about Notre Dame. We have very devoted faculty who are interested in answering these big questions, and we have friends of the University who are interested in helping out financially with this type of research. We're trying to get our undergraduates involved—they're spectacular. It's exciting to be on the ground floor when a new project is getting started."

— Faculty Fellow William N. Evans

Keough-Hesburgh Professor of Economics and Director of Research, Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity

"Democratic Governance in Latin America is a great book on an important topic. It helps fill a substantial gap in the scholarly literature: it examines what democracies actually do, rather than what—according to some observers—they should do, and it seeks to advance toward measurement based on actual, observable policy outcomes."

— Kurt Weyland
University of Texas at Austin

Collaborative Faculty Grant

Faculty Fellow MICHAEL COPPEDGE is the recipient of the Kellogg Institute's first collaborative faculty grant for "Measuring Democracy," an ambitious project to produce broad new indicators of democracy, broken down into 12 categories, for all countries since 1900. Involving collaboration with a dozen other researchers in the US, Europe, and Latin America, the effort promises to help keep the Kellogg Institute at the forefront of research on democratization.

The $70,000 grant will bring some of Coppedge's collaborators to the Institute, invite wider involvement of Kellogg faculty fellows and graduate students in the project through a new Kellogg Working Group on Democracy, Human Rights, and Social Equality, and facilitate efforts to secure funding necessary to implement the multiyear project.

Collaborative faculty grants promote innovative, collaborative, and interdisciplinary research on issues closely aligned with Kellogg Institute research themes.

Mainwaring and Scully on Democratic Governance

Producing more effective governance is the greatest challenge facing most Latin American democracies today, say faculty fellows SCOTT MAINWARING and REV. TIMOTHY R. SCULLY, CSC, in Democratic Governance in Latin America (Stanford University Press, 2010). Aiming to illuminate policy debates as well as make an academic contribution, the editors gathered a renowned team of contributors to explore why some policies and some countries in Latin America have been more successful than others in meeting the challenge of governing both democratically and effectively.

Contributors to the wide-ranging, interdisciplinary project include not only well-known political scientists and economists, but six distinguished Latin American leaders with strong academic credentials, including FERNANDO HENRIQUE CARDOSO, the former president of Brazil; former Kellogg Senior Fellow ALEJANDRO FOXLEY, who served as finance minister and minister of foreign affairs in Chile; and JOSÉ MIGUEL INSULZA, the secretary general of the Organization of American States.

Other contributors include faculty fellow DANIEL BRINKS and former visiting fellows EVELYNE HUBER, FRANCISCO RODRIGUEZ, MITCHELL SELIGSON, JOHN STEPHENS, JORGE VARGAS CULLELL, and IGNACIO WALKER. The book originated in a conference held at the Kellogg Institute in October 2005 with funding from the Coca-Cola Company.

Cosponsored Conferences and Symposia

Democratization and the Quality of Democracy

Colloquium: "Revolution, Crisis, and Memory: Narratives from the Southern Cone"

Organizer: MARÍA ROSA OLIVERA-WILLIAMS
(Romance Languages and Literatures)
(3/22/2010)

Growth and Development

Conference: "HIV and the Rule of Law: Human Rights at Home and Abroad"

Organizer: JESSICA BROCK JD '10
Law School and Center for Civil and Human Rights
(9/10–11/2009)

Public Policies for Social Justice

Labor Research Workshop: "The World Social Forum, Global Solidarity, and Labor Justice"

Organizer: JACKIE SMITH
(Sociology and Peace Studies)
Higgins Labor Studies Program
(11/6/2009)

Religion and Society

Symposium: "The Church in Asia, Part II: South and Southeast Asia"

Organizers: HOWARD GOLDBLATT
(Center for Asian Studies)
JONATHAN NOBLE
(Asia Initiatives, Provost's Office)
ROBERT GIMELLO
(Theology)
(4/9–10/2010)

 Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity

Social Movements and Civil Society

Workshop: "Globalization, Social Movements, and Peacebuilding"

Organizers: JACKIE SMITH
(Sociology and Peace Studies)
ERNESTO VERDEJA
(Political Science and Peace Studies)
Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies
(10/29–30/2009)

Symposium: "Freedom of Expression in Latin America"

Organizers: Notre Dame Law Review and Center for Civil and Human Rights
(3/29/2010)

Other International and Regional Themes

Graduate Student Conference: "The Center Cannot Hold: The Movement of Ideas between Imperial Centers and Peripheries"

Organizer: ELEANOR PETTUS
(Graduate Student, History)
Nanovic Institute for European Studies
(10/11–13/2009)

Symposium: "The Place of Islam in Contemporary European Literature"

Organizer: A. JAMES McADAMS
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science; Director, Nanovic Institute for European Studies)
(11/16–17/2009)

Asian Film Festival and Conference

Organizers: JONATHAN NOBLE
(Asia Initiatives, Provost's Office)
SYLVIA LIN
(East Asian Languages and Cultures)
AARON MAGNAN-PARK
(Film, Television, and Theatre)

Student Cochairs: SUNNY CHUNG '12
and PRISCILLA CHOI '12
(3/19–20/2010)

Kellogg-Supported Academic Workshop

Book Workshop: "The Rise, Survival, and Fall of Democracies and Dictatorships: Latin America since 1900"

Organizers: SCOTT MAINWARING
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science; Director, Kellogg Institute)
ANÍBAL PÉREZ-LIÑÁN
(Former Kellogg Visiting Fellow)
(5/3/2010)

Symposium: The Church in Asia

South and Southeast Asia

April 9 & 10, 2010

Three scholars of Catholicism in Asia explored the past, present, and future of the Catholic Church in India, Indonesia, and the Philippines in the second in a three-part series on the Church in Asia.

Michael Amaladoss, SJ, professor of theology at Vidyajyoti College of Theology in Delhi and concurrent director of the Institute of Dialogue with Cultures and Religions in Chennai, India, spoke on challenges and opportunities for the Church in India.

Albertus Bagus Laksana, SJ, a PhD candidate at Boston College and a lecturer in theology at Sanata Dharma University in his native Indonesia, discussed the Indonesian Catholic Church and its Islamic context.

Takefumi Terada, director of the Institute of Asian Cultures and professor of cultural anthropology at Sophia University in Tokyo, spoke on the connections between Roman Catholicism and popular religiosity in the Philippines.

Notre Dame's Center for Asian Studies and the Kellogg Institute are presenting the series of symposia, which began in 2009 with a focus on East Asia. The series will conclude with a major conference in Hong Kong in 2011.

Working Groups

The Institute's working groups provide a mechanism for Kellogg fellows to organize sustained, collective, and often interdisciplinary study around specific questions and themes, taking advantage of expertise or interest among faculty fellows, visiting fellows, guest scholars, other Notre Dame faculty members, graduate students, undergraduates, and invited guests.

The Africa Working Group

Chairs: REV. PAUL KOLLMAN, CSC, and REV. ROBERT DOWD, CSC

The Africa Working Group provides a forum for resident faculty, graduate students, and outside scholars to present and discuss cutting-edge research on Africa. Participants, who come from a range of disciplines, share a common interest in investigating Africa's past, present, and future, as well as Africa's place in the larger global order. The group also sponsors Africanist events, enriching the study of Africa on campus and building on growing student interest in the region.

Development Studies Working Group

Faculty CoChair: RAHUL OKA

Graduate Student CoChair: JESSICA WEAVER

The Development Studies Working Group draws together graduate students and other members of the Notre Dame community interested in international development to share ideas, funding opportunities, and real-world experience. In addition to networking, the multidisciplinary group's activities include a reading group, lectures by outside speakers, and forums for feedback on members' research projects.

Haiti Working Group

Chair: REV. TOM STREIT, CSC

The Haiti Working Group draws together scholars and students from around the University to educate the Notre Dame community on the situation in Haiti, where political turmoil and now the aftermath of a deadly earthquake affect citizens' struggle for the basic right to health care. Campus events build interest in the history, culture, and socioeconomics of the nation, the poorest in the Western hemisphere.

Human Rights Working Group

Chairs: DOUGLASS CASSEL and ROBERT JOHANSEN

The Human Rights Working Group comprises an interdisciplinary group of faculty interested in assessing the status of human rights education at the University of Notre Dame. The group is exploring the possible creation of an undergraduate human rights academic program as well as a University-wide center or institute to coordinate human rights education on campus.

Migrants' Transnational Civic Engagement and Political Participation in the Americas Working Group

Chairs: KAREN RICHMAN and JORGE BUSTAMANTE

This working group investigates the evolving nature of migration in a globalized economy. Seeking to better understand the relationship between migration, democracy, and citizenship in the Americas, members discuss works pertaining to the group's theme and host visiting speakers on topics such as transnational migration, political participation across borders, and remittances.

Books and Publications

Kellogg Institute's Monograph Series with the University of Notre Dame Press

Since 1985 the Kellogg Institute's Monograph Series with the University of Notre Dame Press has highlighted innovative scholarship on Institute themes. Most of the books in the series focus on Latin America, with a particular emphasis on Kellogg's core expertise in democratization and development. Institute Director SCOTT MAINWARING serves as series editor.

Criminality, Public Security, and the Challenge to Democracy in Latin America

Marcelo Bergman and Laurence Whitehead, editors

This edited volume aims to understand the reality of soaring crime rates and the increased perception of insecurity by Latin American citizens.

Contributors—including former Visiting Fellow LUIS PÁSARA—explore the institutional obstacles that states confront in the effort to build a fairer and more efficient criminal justice system; the connections between those obstacles and larger sociopolitical patterns; and the challenges those patterns present for the consolidation of democracy in the region.

Bergman is associate professor of law at Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas (CIDE) in Mexico City and Whitehead is official fellow in politics at Nuffield College, Oxford University, and director of the university's Mexican Studies Programme.

The Sources of Democratic Responsiveness in Mexico

Matthew R. Cleary

In his new book, MATTHEW R. CLEARY '91 shows that contrary to conventional wisdom, electoral competition has not caused municipal governments in contemporary Mexico to be more responsive to voters. Instead, he attributes responsiveness to a qualitative shift in participatory politics that began in the 1970s. Cleary demonstrates the value of thinking broadly about the strategies that citizens use to influence the behavior of politicians.

Cleary, who majored in government at Notre Dame and earned his doctorate in political science from the University of Chicago, is now an associate professor of political science in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University. He was a visiting professor at Notre Dame in 2003.

Contemporary European Politics and Society Series with University of Notre Dame Press

The Contemporary European Politics and Society Series focuses the lens of comparative social science research on Europe, showcasing outstanding scholarship related to the continent. Kellogg Faculty Fellow ANTHONY M. MESSINA serves as series editor.

Unearthing Franco's Legacy: Mass Graves and the Recovery of Historical Memory in Spain

Samuel Amago and Carlos Jerez-Farrán, editors

During the Spanish Civil War and the 36 years of the Franco dictatorship, thousands of suspected political dissidents and their families were systematically killed and buried in anonymous mass graves. Faculty Fellow SAMUEL AMAGO and CARLOS JEREZ-FARRÁN, Notre Dame professor of Spanish, are the editors of a new book that explores the political, cultural, and historical debate that has ensued in Spain as the discovery and exhumation of such graves has forced citizens to publicly confront Franco's legacy.

The essays by historians, anthropologists, literary scholars, journalists, and cultural analysts collected in this volume represent the first interdisciplinary analysis of how present-day Spain has sought to come to terms with the violence of Franco's regime.

Kellogg Series Book Earns New Award

Pablo Policzer's The Rise and Fall of Repression in Chile, published in 2008 in the Kellogg Institute Series with the University of Notre Dame Press, received the Canadian Political Science Association's Prize in Comparative Politics 2010.

The biennial prize competition recognizes the contribution of Canadian political science to the field of comparative politics.

Policzer is assistant professor of political science and Canada Research Chair in Latin American Politics at the University of Calgary.

Previously, Choice magazine designated the book a 2009 Outstanding Academic Title.

"For a wide community—including both scholars and more broadly colleagues who work in the field of international affairs—the Kellogg Institute's Working Paper Series is a truly remarkably resource."

—David Collier

Robson Professor of Political Science
University of California,
Berkeley

Working Paper Series

Eleven new titles have been added to the Kellogg Institute Working Paper Series. The series promotes the wide dissemination, free of charge, of the latest research by current and past faculty fellows, visiting fellows, and guest scholars. Faculty Fellow ROBERT FISHMAN serves as the series editor. Published during academic year 2009–10:

#360 "The High and the Low in Politics: A Two-Dimensional Political Space for Comparative Analysis and Electoral Studies"
By PIERRE OSTIGUY (Bard College)

#361 "Argentina's Double Political Spectrum: Party System, Political Identities, and Strategies, 1944–2007"
By PIERRE OSTIGUY (Bard College)

#362 "Social and Political Effects of Religiosity and Religious Identities in Latin America"
By J. SAMUEL VALENZUELA (University of Notre Dame), REV. TIMOTHY R. SCULLY, CSC (University of Notre Dame), and NICOLÁS SOMMA (Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile)

#363 "Institutionalizing Inequality: The Political Origins of Labor Codes in Latin America"
By MATTHEW E. CARNES, SJ (Georgetown University)

#364 "Islam and the International Sector: Negotiations of Faith in the Kyrgyz Republic"
By NOOR BORBIEVA (Indiana University–Purdue University Fort Wayne)

#365 "Elections and the Origins of an Argentine Democratic Tradition, 1810–1880"
By EDUARDO ZIMMERMANN (Universidad de San Andrés, Buenos Aires)

#366 "Happy News: Censorship, Nationalism, and Language Ideology in China"
By SUSAN D. BLUM (University of Notre Dame)

#367 "Exit During Crisis: How Openness, Migration, and Economic Crisis Affect Democratization"
By JOSEPH WRIGHT (Pennsylvania State University)

#368 "The Vote Share of New and Young Parties"
By SCOTT MAINWARING (University of Notre Dame), CARLOS GERVAISONI (University of Notre Dame and Universidad Torcuato Di Tella, Buenos Aires), and ANNABELLA ESPAÑA-NÁJERA (Tulane University)

#369 "How Presidents Legislate: Agenda Control and Policy Success in Costa Rica"
By LESLIE A. SCHWINDT-BAYER (University of Missouri)

#370 "The Meaning of Left-Right in Latin America: A Comparative View"
By NINA WIESEHMEIER (Instituto de Ciências Sociais da Universidade de Lisboa)

"This volume ... will be of tremendous significance to scholars and students interested in the analysis of crime and public security and their relevance to the challenges that Latin American democracies face."

—Carlos Aguirre
University of Oregon

"...An important contribution to the literature on problems of democracy in Latin America. Cleary offers a careful, nuanced analysis of the limits of electoral competition as a democratic instrument for improving the responsiveness of government to citizens in contemporary Mexico."

—Richard Snyder
Brown University

"...A timely contribution to a subject that has provoked serious discussion both in Spain and abroad... the interdisciplinarity of the approaches adds much to the book's value."

—David T. Gies
University of Virginia

Books and Publications

Selected Faculty Publications

THOMAS ANDERSON

- “Piñera y la política: escritos sobre Cuba revolucionaria en Revolución y Lunes,” Revista Iberoamericana 75, 226 (2009).

VIVA BARTKUS

- Social Capital: Reaching Out, Reaching In (editor, with James Davis) (Edward Elgar, 2009). Contributors include the recent Nobel Prize winner, Elinor Ostrom, Faculty Fellow ROBERT FISHMAN, Robert Putnam, and Ronald Burt.

JEFFREY BERGSTRAND

- “The Growth of Regional Economic Integration Agreements and the Middle East” (with Scott Baier and Peter Egger), Région et Développement 29 (May 2009).

MICHAEL COPPEDGE

- “Speedbumps on the Road to Multi-method Consensus,” Qualitative and Multi-Method Research 7, 2 (2009).

AMITAVA DUTT

- “International Institutions, Globalization, and the Inequality Among Nations” (with Kajal Mukhopadhyay), Progress in Development Studies 9, 4 (2009).
- Happiness, Economics and Politics (coedited with Benjamin Radcliff) (Edward Elgar, 2009). Dutt contributed “Introduction: Happiness, Economics, and Politics,” “Happiness and the Relative Consumption Hypothesis,” and “What Is to Be Done: Toward a ‘Happier’ World” to the volume.

GEORGES ENDERLE

- “Business Ethics Education for MBA Students in China: Current Status and Future Prospects” (with Zucheng Zhou and Ping Ou), Journal of Business Ethics Education 6 (2009).
- “A Rich Concept of Wealth Creation beyond Profit Maximization and Adding Value,” Journal of Business Ethics 84, Supplement 3 (2009).

ISABEL FERREIRA-GOULD

- “De Memórias e Dores Insepultas: Violência e Tortura na Ficção Portuguesa Contemporânea,” Teia Literária 3 (2009).
- “Caderno de Memórias Coloniais: A Daughter’s Unsettling Auto/Biography of Colonialism and Uprooting,” Ellipsis 8 (2010).

KAREN GRAUBART

- “The Creolization of the New World: Local Forms of Identity in Urban Colonial Peru, 1560–1640,” Hispanic American Historical Review 89, 3 (2009).

THOMAS GRESIK

- Special section on “Multinational Taxation and Tax Competition” (coeditor), European Economic Review 54 (January 2010). The section reports the results of a Kellogg-sponsored conference held in Amsterdam in June 2008.

REV. DANIEL GROODY, CSC

- “Crossing the Divide: Foundations of a Theology of Migration and Refugees,” Theological Studies 70 (September 2009).
- “Jesus and the Undocumented: A Spiritual Geography of a Crucified People,” Theological Studies 70 (June 2009).

ALEXANDRA GUISINGER

- “Determining Trade Policy: Do Voters Hold Politicians Accountable?” International Organization 63, 3 (2009).
- “Exchange Rate Proclamations and Inflation-Fighting Credibility” (with David Singer), International Organization 64 (Spring, 2010).

KRISTINE IBSEN

- Maximilian, Mexico, and the Invention of Empire (Vanderbilt University Press, 2010).

“...a terrific book that explores a central question of democratization: why do autocrats give up power when they can reasonably expect their rivals to punish them if they do? Nalepa’s research is first-rate and the book brims with surprising insights about the politics of transferring power.”

—Timothy Frye

Director, Harriman Institute
Marshall D. Shulman Professor of Post-Soviet Foreign Policy
Columbia University

“...a valuable addition to the literature. The book provides a helpful integration of Catholic Social Thought and human rights as applied to business.”

—Timothy L. Fort

Lindner-Gambal Professor of Business Ethics
George Washington University

DEBRA JAVELINE

- “A Balanced Assessment of Russian Civil Society” (with Sarah Lindemann-Komarova), Journal of International Affairs 63, 2 (May 2010).

LIONEL JENSEN

- Manufacturing Confucianism: Chinese Traditions and Universal Civilization (制造儒學：中國傳統和普世文明) (Beijing University Press, 2010).

REV. PAUL KOLLMAN, CSC

- “Classifying African Religions Past, Present, and Future: Part One. Ogbu Kalu and the Appropriation of Pentecostalism,” and “Part Two. The Anthropology of Christianity and Generations of African Christians,” Journal of Religion in Africa 40, 1 (March 2010) and 40, 2 (June 2010).
- “Mission Ad Gentes and the Perils of Racial Privilege,” Theological Studies 70, 4 (December 2009).
- “Evangelization of Slaves: A Moral Misstep?” Spiritans Horizons 4 (Fall 2009).

SCOTT MAINWARING

- La democracia cristiana en América Latina. Conflictos y competencia electoral (coedited with REV. TIMOTHY SCULLY, CSC) (Fondo de Cultura Económica, Mexico City, 2010), previously published as Christian Democracy in Latin America: Electoral Competition and Regime Conflicts (Stanford University Press, 2003).

MONIKA NALEPA

- Skeletons in the Closet: Transitional Justice in Post-Communist Europe (Cambridge University Press, 2010).
- “Captured Commitments: An Analytic Narrative of Transitions with Transitional Justice,” World Politics 62, 2 (2010).
- “Lustration and the Survival of Parliamentary Parties,” Taiwan Journal of Democracy 5, 2 (2009).

CAROLYN NORDSTROM

- “Fault Lines,” in Global Health in a Time of Violence, Paul Farmer, Linda Whiteford, and Barbara Rylko-Bauer, eds. (School for American Research Press, 2009).

MARÍA ROSA OLIVERA-WILLIAMS

- “The Twentieth Century as Ruin: Tango and Historical Memory,” in Telling Ruins in Latin America, Vicky Unruh and Michael Lazzara, eds. (Palgrave Macmillan, 2009).
- “La década del 70 en el Cono Sur: discursos nostálgicos que recuerdan la revolución y escriben la historia,” Romance Quarterly 57 (2010).

REV. ROBERT PELTON, CSC

- “A Preferential and Evangelizing Option for the Poor’: From Medellín to Aparecida,” in Religion and Society in Latin America: Interpretive Essays from Conquest to Present, Lee Penyak and Walter Petry, eds. (Orbis, 2009).

STEPHEN E. SILLIMAN

- “Sampling Strategies for Estimation of Parameters Related to Ground Water Quality” (with Pamela Crane), Ground Water 47, 5 (2009).

LEE TAVIS

- Values-Based Multinational Management: Achieving Enterprise Sustainability through a Human Rights Strategy (with Timothy M. Tavis) (University of Notre Dame Press, 2009).

JUAN VITULLI

- Poéticas de lo criollo. La transformación del concepto “criollo” en las letras hispanoamericanas (siglos XVI al XIX) (Editorial Corregidor, 2009).

Seminar and Lecture Series

The Kellogg Institute's weekly Seminar and Lecture Series brings speakers from across academic disciplines to explore ideas relevant to Kellogg research priorities and to expose faculty members and students to the latest in scholarship and public policy. The lecture series features prominent speakers from outside Notre Dame, as well as talks by faculty fellows, visiting fellows, and guest scholars.

Democratization and the Quality of Democracy

- Cas Mudde
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, University of Antwerp, Belgium)
"Unbounded Populism? A Cross-Regional Perspective"
(9/1/2009)
- Valeria Palanza
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, Princeton University)
"Lawmaking in Separation of Powers Systems: On the Choice of Decrees vs. Statutes" (9/15/2009)
- Daniel Kselman
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, Duke University)
"Corruption and Intra-Party Choice: the Effect of Preference-Voting on Democratic Governance" (9/24/2009)
- Thad Dunning
(Yale University)
"Social Cleavages and Political Preferences in Comparative Perspective" (10/1/2009)
- Monika Nalepa
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science)
"International Transitional Justice and Peaceful Democratic Transitions" (10/6/2009)
- Naunihal Singh
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science)
"Seizure of Power: What We Know and Don't Know about When Coups Are Attempted, When They Succeed, and When They Fail" (10/27/2009)
- Mariela Szwarcberg
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, University of Chicago)
"Uncertainty and Political Clientelism: The Political Effects of Campaign Rallies" (11/3/2009)
- Raúl Madrid
(University of Texas, Austin)
"The Rise of Ethnic Politics in Latin America" (11/17/2009)
- Frances Hagopian
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science)
"Framing Programmatic Competition in Latin America: Neoliberal Reforms and Strategic Party Behavior" (12/1/2009)
- Filip Reyntjens
(University of Antwerp, Belgium)
"The Great African War: Congo and Regional Geopolitics, 1996-2006" (12/1/2009)
- Jennifer Gandhi
(Emory University)
"Coordination among Opposition Parties in Authoritarian Elections"
(12/8/2009)
- Scott Mainwaring
(Kellogg Institute Director, Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science)
"Extra-System Electoral Volatility"
(1/14/2010)
- Taylor Boas
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, Boston University)
"Controlling the Airwaves: Incumbency Advantage and Community Radio in Brazil"
(2/4/2010)
- Daniel Brinks
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science and Law)
"New Courts for New Democracies: Judicial Changes in Latin America from 1975 to 2009"
(2/9/2010)
- Alexandre Debs
(Yale University)
"Living by the Sword and Dying by the Sword?: Leadership Transitions in and out of Dictatorships"
(2/23/2010)
- Carlos Guevara Mann
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, University of Nevada, Reno)
"Political Ambition and Congressional Careers: A Comparative Examination of Deputies' Reelection in Chile and Panama, 1990-2010"
(3/16/2010)

- Valerie Sperling
(Clark University)
"Altered States: The Globalization of Accountability"
(4/1/2010)
- Marcus Kurtz
(The Ohio State University)
"The Social Foundations of Institutional Order: Society, War or the 'Resource Curse' in South American State Building"
(4/6/2010)
- Nicolas Shumway
(University of Texas, Austin)
"How Liberalism Became a Bad Word in Argentina"
(4/20/2010)

Growth and Development

- Ford Program Lecture: Duncan Green
(Oxfam, GB)
"Is the Global Crisis Big Enough?" (9/8/2009)
- Father Henry Simaro
(Founder, Africa Child Foundation)
"African Child Fund: Fanaka Schools and Olive School for Girls" (9/14/2009)
- Africa Working Group: Stephen Silliman
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Civil Engineering and Geological Sciences)
"But Can We Drink It? Collaborating On Water Development In Benin" (9/29/2009)
- Ford Program Lecture: Paul Collier
(University of Oxford; Special Advisor, Ford Program)
"The Plundered Planet and Restoring Natural Order in the Bottom Billion" (10/8/2009)
- Rose Kiwanuka
(The Palliative Care Association of Uganda)
"Palliative Care in Uganda"
(11/2/2009)

Growth and Development

- Jeffrey Bergstrand
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Finance)
"The Growth of Bilateralism"
(2/2/2010)
- Africa Working Group: Stephen Silliman
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Civil Engineering and Geological Sciences)
"Lessons Learned from African Colleagues: Reflections of a Rather Not Intelligent Old Engineer"
(2/5/2010)
- Kellogg/Kroc Lecture Series: MBA Student Panel with Viva Bartkus
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Management)
"Business on the Frontlines: Reports from the Field"
(2/18/2010)
- "Food for Thought" Film & Lecture Series Film Screening & Panel:
"One Water," with Director Sanjeev Chatterjee
(4/24/2010)
- Ford Program Lecture Series: "Discussions on Development"
"Relief vs. Development: Conflicting Pathways to Economic Growth and Political Stability"
Larissa Fast
(Sociology and Peace Studies, University of Notre Dame)
Rahul Oka
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Anthropology)
(11/11/2009)
"The Role of the University in Development"
- Tamo Chattopadhyay
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Institute for Educational Initiatives)
Rev. Peter Kanyandago
(Uganda Martyrs University)
(12/2/2009)
"It's the Water, Stupid"
- David Lodge
(Director, Center for Aquatic Conservation; Biological Sciences, University of Notre Dame)
Molly Lipscomb
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Economics and Econometrics)
(3/24/2010)
- Ford Program Faculty Colloquia: "Research on Development"
Rahul Oka
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Anthropology)
"Locally Feasible Development: Incorporating Values-Driven and Market-Based Approaches into Aid and Economic Growth"
(9/28/2009)
Kasturi Haldar
(Director, Center for Rare and Neglected Diseases; Biological Sciences, University of Notre Dame)
"Developing Health Networks in Rare and Neglected Diseases"
(10/26/2009)
Emily Oster
(Booth School of Business, University of Chicago)
"Routes of Infection: Exports and HIV Incidence in Sub-Saharan Africa" (11/23/2009)
Charles Ssekya
(Uganda Martyrs University)
Stella Nakiwala
(Uganda Martyrs University)
"Challenges and Opportunities for Research in Uganda"
2/22/2010
Jess Lowenberg-DeBoer
(Purdue University)
"International Programs in Agriculture: The Purdue Improved Cowpea Storage Project in Africa"
3/29/2010
- Sullivan Lecture Series: Sam Kortum
(University of Chicago)
"Trade and the Global Recession"
(9/3/2009)
Eduardo Lora
(Chief Economist and Head of Research, Inter-American Development Bank)
"The Impact of the Financial Crisis in Latin America"
(9/17/2009)
Timur Kuran
(Duke University)
"Islam and Economic Underdevelopment: Legal Roots of Organizational Stagnation in the Middle East" (1/21/2010)
Simon Evenett
(University of St. Gallen, Switzerland)
"An Account of Crisis-Era Protectionism"
(3/11/2010)

Religion and Society

- "The Catholic Church in Cuba"
Rev. Robert Pelton, CSC
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Theology; Director, LANACC)
Rogelio A. de la Torre
(Colegio de Abogados de Cuba en el Exilio)
(11/10/2009)
Rev. Peter Kanyandago
(Uganda Martyrs University)
"The Churches, Development, and Democracy in Uganda"
(12/3/2009)
Ford Program Lecture Series: "Discussions on Development"
"Is Charity Bad for Human Development? Reflections on Pope Benedict XVI's Encyclical 'Caritas in Veritate'
Rev. Robert Dowd, CSC
(Director, Ford Program; Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science)
Maura Ryan
(Theology, University of Notre Dame)
(1/27/2010)
Amy Reynolds
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, Princeton University)
"Catholic and Costa Rican: Bishops' Discourse over Free Trade"
(2/16/2010)
Migrants' Transnational Civic Engagement and Political Participation in the Americas Working Group:
Juan Javier Pescador
(Michigan State University)
"Border-crossing Saints, Border-crossing Families: The Holy Child of Atocha and the Mexican Experience in the 20th-century United States"
(2/25/2010)
Romero Days: Bishop Alvaro Ramazzini
(Diocese of San Marcos, Guatemala)
"Civil and Human Rights and the Diocese of San Marcos, Guatemala"
(3/24/2010)
Film Screening:
"Monseñor, the Last Journey of Oscar Romero"
(3/25/2010)
- Nuno Senos
(Resident Director, CIEE Study Center, Lisbon; Universidade Nova de Lisboa)
"A Saint of Your Color: Black and Pardo Saints in Franciscan Brazil"
(3/30/2010)
Gary Urton
(Harvard University)
"A New World Perspective on Global Intellectual and Religious History: Accounting, Confession, and Record Keeping in the Colonial Andes"
(4/8/2010)
- Ford Program Lecture Series: "Discussions on Development"
"The Rise of Online Public Opinion and Its Political Impact"
(10/15/2009)
Anthony Messina
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science)
"European Immigration Pathways from September 11th: Which Trajectories and What Role for Public Opinion?"
(11/24/2009)

 Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity

 Cospponsored

Social Movements and Organized Civil Society

- CS Film Screening:
"Pray the Devil Back to Hell"
(9/12/2009)
Eric Van Young
(University of California, San Diego)
"Mexico, 1810/1910: Two Social Mobilizations Compared"
(9/22/2009)
Victoria Langland
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, University of California, Davis)
"Memory Across Generations: The Meanings of 1968 in Military Brazil"
(9/29/2009)
Xiao Qiang
(Editor-in-Chief, China Digital Times; University of California, Berkeley)
"The Rise of Online Public Opinion and Its Political Impact" (10/15/2009)
Anthony Messina
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Political Science)
"European Immigration Pathways from September 11th: Which Trajectories and What Role for Public Opinion?"
(11/24/2009)
- Africa Working Group: Christine Bodewes
(School of African and Oriental Studies, University of London)
"Civil Society in Africa"
(12/4/2009)
Tiago Fernandes
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, European University Institute, Florence)
"Patterns of Civil Society in Western Europe, 1870s-1970s: A Comparative and Historical Interpretation"
(1/26/2010)
Benjamin Junge
(Kellogg Visiting Fellow, State University of New York, New Paltz)
"The Neoliberalization of Participatory Democracy: Grassroots Community Leaders' Perceptions of Change and Continuity in Porto Alegre, Brazil"
(2/11/2010)
Kellogg/Kroc Lecture Series: Cynthia Enloe
(Clark University)
"Picking Up the Pieces: Feminist Perspectives on Life after War"
(2/25/2010)
Emilio Kouri
(University of Chicago)
"Imaginary Communities: Indians and Campesinos in Mexican Social Thought" (4/27/2010)

Public Policies for Social Justice

- Africa Working Group Panel: Sister Gertrude Kabanyomzi
(AIDS Relief, Uganda)
Adil Sheraz
(Catholic Relief Services, Pakistan)
"Programs for the Prevention and Treatment of HIV/AIDS"
(9/21/2009)
Ollie Johnson
(Wayne State University)
"Black Politics in Brazil: From White Supremacy to Racial Integration"
(11/5/2009)
Africa Working Group: Allison Burkett
(Africa Faith and Justice Network)
Bahati Jacques
(Africa Faith and Justice Network)
"Justice of Proximity: Stories from the Democratic Republic of Congo and the Kamenge Youth Center in Bujumbura, Burundi"
(2/25/2010)
Kellogg/Kroc Lecture Series: David Backer
(Kroc Visiting Fellow, College of William and Mary)
"Who Reconciles? Influences on Victims' Reactions to Legacies of Conflict"
(3/2/2010)
James Habyarimana
(Georgetown University)
"Heckle and Chide: Results of a Randomized Road Safety Intervention in Kenya"
(3/4/2010)
"On the Immigration Debate"
Jorge Bustamante
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Sociology)
Gilberto Cardenas
(Kellogg Faculty Fellow, Sociology; Director, Institute for Latino Studies)
(4/13/2010)
Africa Working Group: David Backer
(Kroc Visiting Fellow, College of William and Mary)
"Watching the Bargain Unravel? A Panel Survey of Victims' Attitudes about Transitional Justice in Cape Town, South Africa"
(4/16/2010)

Other International and Regional Topics

- CS Junot Diaz
(Pulitzer-Prize Winner; Massachusetts Institute of Technology)
Reading: The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao
10/7/2009
- CS David Foster
(Arizona State University)
"Contesting a Revolution: Raymundo Gleyzer's Documentary Mexico, La Revolución Congelada" (10/7/2009)
Clare Seelke
(Congressional Research Service)
"From ND to DC: Pathways to Careers in the Federal Government" and "Get out of the Library and into the World: Taking Advantage of Overseas Research Opportunities" (10/27 and 10/28/2009)
CS José Rivera
(Playwright, Screenwriter)
"FTT Talks Presents José Rivera, Playwright"
(2/25/2010)
Halbert Jones
(Harvard University)
"For the Record: The Challenges of Researching, Compiling, and Declassifying the Official History of US Foreign Relations"
(3/17/2010)
Romero Days: Ana Carrigan
(Journalist, Author, and Cinematographer)
"The Palace of Justice: A Colombian Tragedy"
(3/25/2010)
CS Ray Offenheiser
(President, Oxfam America)
"Making a Living, Making a Difference"
(3/30/2010)
CS Frances Gateward
(Ursinus College)
"Karate Kidz and Kung-Fu Crazy: Afro-Cinematic Encounters"
(4/23/2010)
CS Martin Espada
(Pulitzer Prize Finalist; Andrés Montoya Poetry Prize Judge)
Paul Martinez Pompa
(Winner of Andrés Montoya Poetry Prize)
"Andrés Montoya Poetry Prize Reading"
(4/29/2010)

Student Education

A passion for international affairs, a desire to understand the developing world, and an appreciation for rigorous scholarship draws both undergraduate and graduate students to the Kellogg Institute from across the University and around the world. In developing a diverse, multi-faceted community of student scholars, the Institute has the long-term goal of nurturing future leaders with the skills and global citizenship required by our increasingly interconnected world.

Known for their high quality, academic rigor, and depth, the Kellogg Institute's undergraduate student programs are among the most sought after by Notre Dame students. With a strong emphasis on independent undergraduate research, two undergraduate minors, and the flagship International Scholars Program, Kellogg programs attract some of the University's very best students. Internships and fellowships give students the opportunity to experience Africa, Asia, and Latin America first hand. "Life changing" is one of the most common ways undergraduates describe their participation in Kellogg programs.

"Learning hands on about the history of Peru was amazing, but living the product of that history was even more meaningful. My Experiencing the World Fellowship gave me the unexpected gift of insight into the modern struggles and joys of life in Peru."

—Stephanie Mulhern '11

Kellogg/Kroc Undergraduate Research Grants

To encourage excellence in independent undergraduate research, the Kellogg Institute awards summer research grants in an ongoing partnership with the Joan B. Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies. These grants enable exceptional students to carry out primary research in a variety of fields, allowing them to complete strong research projects or senior theses. Many receive awards, grants, and employment on the basis of their research.

Bridget Flores
(Latin American Culture and Development)

"Rhetoric Across Borders: Mexican and US Media"

Robyn Grant
(History)

"'Perverse' Verses: Homophobia and Literary Censorship in Revolutionary Cuba"

Stephanie Mulhern
(History/Spanish)

"Idolatry and Criminality: Making Sense of Indigenous Life in Colonial Peru"

Claire Naus
(Biological Science)

"Gender Inequality and the Health of Women and Children in Lesotho"

John Vilecco
(Program in Liberal Studies)

"Ugandan Youth: Perspective on HIV/AIDS, Social Support and Self-Efficacy"

International Scholars Program

The International Scholars Program (ISP) identifies students of outstanding potential early in their Notre Dame education, inviting them to step onto a challenging academic path designed to focus and develop their international interests and scholarly abilities.

Beginning their sophomore year, students are paired with faculty fellows and serve as research assistants on faculty projects. In the senior year, the students write senior theses, often remarkably independent and original in nature. After graduation, ISP participants frequently apply skills gained to future endeavors.

Class of 2010

Kristin Haas
(Program of Liberal Studies/Peace Studies)

Amber Herkey
(Anthropology)

Michael Hoffman
(Political Science/Arabic)

Tracy Jennings
(Classics)

Katherine Moran
(Political Science/Psychology)

Matthew Panhans
(Economics)

Katherine Schilling
(Political Science/Peace Studies)

Class of 2011

Hallie Brewster
(Finance)

Constance Chen
(Architecture/Chinese)

Shannon Coyne
(Political Science/Peace Studies)

Matthew Gallivan
(Political Science/Arabic)

Shanna Gast
(Economics)

Nicholas Goode
(Finance)

Robyn Grant
(History)

Brittany Holom
(Russian/Political Science)

Sara Jaszowski
(Accountancy)

Cherrica Li
(Political Science/Economics)

Stephanie Mulhern
(History/Spanish)

Andrew Mullen
(Civil Engineering)

Bridget Mullins
(Music/Peace Studies)

Class of 2012

Katherine Cessar
(Political Science)

Jee Seun Choi
(Political Science/History)

Mitchel Gainer
(Economics/Philosophy)

Katherine Jordan
(Business/Film, Television, & Theatre)

Kathryn Lang
(Political Science)

Stephen Payne
(Political Science/History)

Malcolm Phelan
(Political Science)

Joseph VanderZee
(History/Spanish)

"No other program gives you the same kind of credibility that you have as an International Scholar. You have a great opportunity to take a hands-on role in a faculty member's research."

—Michael Hoffman '10

PhD candidate, Princeton University

Student Research Conference

"People, Power, and Pragmatism: The Future of Development in Our Changing World"

February 26–27, 2010

The Ford Program's second annual Human Development Conference drew over 300 students from 38 colleges and universities in the US and beyond to discuss their research in the developing world. The student-organized conference challenged presenters and attendees to explore outside the confines of their own fields of study and expose themselves to new ideas and ways of thinking about sustainable human development.

Eighty students presented research they had conducted in 38 countries. Panel topics ranged from healthcare to education to reconciliation. The conference featured speeches by Joseph Sebarenzi, the former speaker of the Rwandan Parliament, who gave the keynote address, and Ray Chambers, the United Nations Secretary-General's Special Envoy for Malaria.

The Ford Program organized the Human Development Conference in collaboration with Notre Dame's Center for Social Concerns and SIT Study Abroad, a program of World Learning.

Experiencing the World Fellowships

Experiencing the World Fellowships (ETW) offer qualified and committed freshmen and sophomores the opportunity to engage in exploratory projects in Africa, Asia, and Latin America. With an emphasis on research, nonprofit work, study, or other activities that will substantially enrich the undergraduate experience, funding is reserved for projects that are not otherwise possible within existing Notre Dame programs.

Elizabeth Chaten
(Program in Liberal Studies)

"Summer Research Internship in India"

Rosabelle Conover
(Science Preprofessional Studies/Psychology)

"Experiencing Education in Cebu City, Philippines"

Joo Won Lee
(Business)

"China's Paradox: Network or Command?"

Juan Carlos Mejia Munne
(Science Preprofessional
Studies)

"Amigos for Christ: Health Care in Rural Nicaragua"

Paul Moya
(Business)

"Orphanage Emmanuel"

Hanna O'Brien
(Anthropology/Arts and Letters Preprofessional
Studies)

"Quality of Life for the Sick and Dying: Improving Ugandan Palliative Care"

Joseph VanderZee
(History/Spanish)

"Religious Education and Encounters in Peru"

Undergraduate Programs

LASP Latin American Studies Minor

The Latin American Studies Program (LASP) promotes opportunities for Notre Dame undergraduates to develop their knowledge of Latin America through an array of courses, campus activities, internships, and research abroad. Complementing a variety of undergraduate majors, the LASP minor offers students the opportunity to deepen their understanding of a region increasingly important to the US economy and culture.

2010 LASP Graduates

Whitney Drake
(Spanish)

Katharine Feeley
(Spanish/Peace Studies)

Alison Laycock
(English/Spanish)

Elizabeth Mitchell
(Political Science)

Justin Perez
(Anthropology)

Lisa Potter
(Psychology)

Allison Thomas
(English)

Undergraduate Mentoring Award

The exceptional mentoring of the Institute's faculty fellows is a vital component of Institute student programs, including the International Scholars and Research Grants programs.

The Undergraduate Mentoring Award for 2010 recognizes MICHAEL COPPEDGE, professor of political science, for excellence in mentoring undergraduate student research. The award carries a cash prize of $750.

International Development Studies Minor

The Ford Program has launched a new minor in international development studies (IDS), which will provide undergraduates with an academic foundation for analysis of the dynamics of development. Thirteen students representing all five colleges of the University make up the first IDS cohort, which will begin classes in fall 2010.

Drawing on concepts of integral human development from Catholic social teaching and the people-centered approaches of scholars such as Amartya Sen, the IDS minor will help students critically reflect on what it means to live in an interconnected world. Components of the minor include a gateway course, electives, fieldwork in the developing world, and a capstone course that includes a senior essay.

Faculty Teaching Awards

SUSAN BLUM, LIONEL JENSEN, and MARÍA ROSA OLIVERA-WILLIAMS were among 11 Arts and Letters faculty members who received Notre Dame's 2010 Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, CSC, Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching at the close of the academic year. Nominations for the Joyce awards come from both students and peers. Winners represent faculty who have had a profound influence on undergraduate students through sustained exemplary teaching.

Internship Program

With many more applications than it has internships each year, the Kellogg Institute is able to select the very strongest candidates for this popular program, which prepares students for future scholarship, citizenship, and work in a global society.

At more than 20 different programs in 10 countries in Africa, Asia, and Latin America, internships provide students with a base from which to explore the developing world, improve their language skills, and understand the policy issues and the social challenges of their host countries. In addition, several interns each year work for organizations in the United States that focus on international issues.

Africa

Foundation for International Medical Relief of Children, Uganda

Shane O'Brien
(Science-Business)

Foundation for Sustainable Development, Uganda

Kelsey Poinsett-Jones
(Environmental Science)

United Planet, Ghana

Margaret Adams
(History)

Ruoqing Huang
(Business/Psychology)

Women in Progress, Ghana

Elizabeth Murphy
(Psychology)

Kelly Pierson
(Marketing)

Ford Program, Uganda

Matthew Razzano
(Political Science)

Kathleen Rose
(Civil Engineering)

Ford Program-Hosted Internships

With the International Summer Service Learning (ISSLP) Program of Notre Dame's Center for Social Concerns and the Gigot Center for Entrepreneurial Studies

Jordan Bergmann
(Science Preprofessional Studies/Poverty Studies)

Anne Kotz
(Science-Business)

Asia

Foundation for Sustainable Development, India

Mary Patricia Dwyer
(Political Science)

Katelyn Lentz
(English/Peace Studies)

ProWorld Service Corps, India

Christine Hamma
(Political Science)

Catherine Reidy
(Psychology/Philosophy)

Nathalie Rosado
(History/Arabic)

United Planet, China

Julian Kim
(Science Preprofessional Studies/Theology)

WorldTeach, China

Hilary Kelly
(Political Science)

Latin America

Coprodeli, Peru

Joseph Horan
(English/Spanish)

Barbara Stansil
(English/Film, Television, and Theatre)

Foreign Commercial Service, Argentina

Heather Markel
(Information Technology Management/Spanish)

Foundation for Sustainable Development, Argentina

Stephanie Makar
(Accountancy/Spanish)

Foundation for Sustainable Development, Nicaragua

Christopher Rhodenbaugh
(Political Science)

ProWorld Service Corps, Mexico

Michael Hur
(Science Preprofessional Studies/Theology)

United States

The Advocates for Human Rights, Minneapolis

Caitlin Alli
(Economics/Peace Studies)

Center of Concern, Washington, DC

Annapatrice Clarke
(Political Science/Peace Studies)

Inter American Press Association, Miami, FL

Jaime Montes
(History/Art Studio)

Organization of American States, Washington, DC

Elizabeth Furman
(Political Science/Peace Studies)

"As far as the challenges of development go, I learned more in the first week here than I ever could have from a book or classroom."

—Kathleen Rose '13
Intern in Uganda

Undergraduate Awards

Considine Award

Established by the Kellogg Institute in 2002 to commemorate the late Rev. John Considine, a Maryknoll missionary who built strong ties between the US Catholic Church and the Catholic Church in Latin America, the Considine Award recognizes a student whose activities and studies reflect Rev. Considine's aspirations and lifework. The US Conference of Catholic Bishops funds the $500 cash prize that accompanies the award.

Jenna Knapp
(Anthropology/Peace Studies)

Kennedy Prize for Best Senior Essay on Latin America

In honor of a political science professor who was instrumental in developing Latin American studies at Notre Dame, the annual John J. Kennedy Prize for the best senior essay on Latin America recognizes the recipient's outstanding written work at Notre Dame with a cash award of $300.

Justin Perez
(Anthropology)
"Pichanga de locas: Street Volleyball in Two Sectores Populares of Peru"

Monteiro Prize for Best Essay Written in Portuguese

The Program in Portuguese and Brazilian Studies and the Kellogg Institute award the George Monteiro Prize for the best two essays written in Portuguese by undergraduates on a subject related to the Lusophone world. Each prize carries a cash award of $500, funded by a grant from the Fundação Luso-Americana Para o Desenvolvimento (FLAD).

Gabriela Austgen
(Science Preprofessional Studies)

"A Voz de Solidão na Literatura Brasileira"

Hanna Mori
(Political Science/Spanish)

"Centralizando a periferia: Uma análise de Porque não dancei por Esmeralda do Carmo Ortiz"

Study Abroad/Exchange Programs

Latin American Indigenous Language Learning (LAILL)

Administered by the Kellogg Institute, the Latin American Indigenous Language Learning (LAILL) Program promotes the study of the language and culture of the indigenous peoples of Latin America. Open to both undergraduate and graduate students, the program consists of an innovative, interdisciplinary array of classes, fellowships, and opportunities for study abroad.

Quechua Language Study at Notre Dame

The Latin American Indigenous Language Learning endowment, the gift of SABINE MACCORMACK, professor of history and classics, funds the annual appointment of a visiting professor from Peru to teach Quechua language and culture in a unique exchange program. Housed in the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures, Quechua instructors, all native speakers, rotate every two years.

2009–2011
Inés Callalli (pictured left)
Cusco, Peru

Quechua Summer Language Fellowships

To complement on-campus instruction, the Kellogg Institute offers summer fellowships to both undergraduate and graduate students to further their studies at the Centro Tinku in Cusco, Peru. SABINE MACCORMACK serves as program mentor.

Kathleen Kole
(History)

Alex Oloriz
(Chemical Engineering)

Virginia Varraveto
(English/Spanish)

Mobility, Society, and Governance in North America

The Mobility, Society, and Governance in North America (MSGNA) project fosters the exchange of students in the social sciences and the humanities between six universities in North America. Participating universities include: the University of Notre Dame and Harvard University in the US; el Colegio de México and the Universidad de Las Américas Puebla in Mexico; and the University of British Columbia and the Université de Montréal in Canada.

The project, funded by the North America Exchange Program of the US Department of Education's Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education (FIPSE), aims to create a group of young professionals and researchers seeking innovative solutions to North American challenges.

Kathryn Thornton
(From Notre Dame to Université de Montréal)

Héctor Flores
(From El Colegio de México to Notre Dame)

Asian Studies Initiative

Seven Notre Dame students studied Korean at Sogang University, a Jesuit institution in Seoul, Korea, as part of the Asian Studies Initiative funded by the US Department of Education's Undergraduate International Studies and Foreign Languages (UISFL) program and administered by the Kellogg Institute (see page 30). Students received additional funding from the Center for the Study of Languages and Cultures' Summer Language Acquisition program, the Liu Endowment, and Sogang University.

Jessica V. Choi
(Environmental Sciences)

Michael Landron
(Finance, International Business, Korean)

Aimee Lee
(Mendoza College of Business)

Crystal Lee
(College of Arts & Letters)

Jee Hae Jane Park
(Mendoza College of Business)

Irene Rho
(College of Arts & Letters)

Paul Yang
(College of Science)

"That initial trip has certainly had a lifelong impact on me and my career. I plan to practice international medicine after completing my training."

—Nick Stahlschmidt '06
Fourth-year medical student,
Saint Louis University
School of Medicine

"The Oaxaca workshop turned out to be one of the most enriching weeks of my life. It truly helped me to further hone my interests in indigenous peoples' issues."

—Adrienne Hearne '10
MSGNA participant

Graduate Education

Supporting graduate education has been a vital part of the Kellogg Institute mission since the 1980s. As one of the University's premier centers for international research, the Institute attracts leading faculty members who work closely with students; brings in external grants to support graduate education; and helps recruit top-notch graduate students by providing both an engaged intellectual community and resources to make studying at Notre Dame especially attractive.

Kellogg Institute PhD Fellowships

These supplemental PhD fellowships, which provide $5,000 in funding for each of five years above the stipend offered by the Graduate School, encourage outstanding students who come from Africa, Asia, and Latin America—or whose academic inquiry focuses on those regions—to choose Notre Dame for graduate study.

Jump-started with support from The Coca-Cola Foundation, the supplemental fellowship program initially helped attract graduate students from Latin America. Sustained by the Kellogg Institute beyond the initial grant, the program has in the last several years broadened its focus to include regions beyond Latin America.

2005–2010

Alejandro Guajardo Cuellar
(Aerospace and Mechanical Engineering)

Gilberto Mejia-Rodriguez
(Aerospace and Mechanical Engineering)

Alonso Morcos Gonzalez
(Computer Science Engineering)

2006–2011

Ezequiel Gonzalez Ocantos
(Political Science)

2007–2012

Julio Garin
(Economics)

Carlos Meléndez
(Political Science)

Guillermo Montt
(Sociology)

Francisco Javier Osorio Zago
Garza Fellow
(Political Science)

2008–2013

Anne McGinness
(History)

Juan Yopez
(Economics)

Business on the Frontlines

With Kellogg Institute and Ford Program support, MBA students from the Mendoza College of Business explored the effects of conflict on Uganda, Lebanon, and Kenya and applied their skills to real-world problems in the course "Business on the Frontlines." Faculty Fellow VIVA BARTKUS conceived the multi-year, Institute-funded research initiative, which is considering the role of business in rebuilding war-torn economies.

The MBA students studied post-conflict issues in the classroom, then divided into teams to spend 10 days in-country. There, they partnered with Catholic Relief Services (CRS), whose staff introduced them to a wide range of local connections and gave them concrete problems to solve—such as how to better market groundnuts in western Kenya and increase the cost efficiency of Lebanon's electric industry. The MBA teams identified business problems and solutions for CRS to implement.

Conference Travel Support

This funding supports travel to academic conferences where graduate students present papers or are otherwise involved in research-related scholarly activity.

Ziad Abdel Tawab
(Law School)

International Criminal Court (ICC)

Krystin Krause
(Political Science)

International Studies Association (ISA)

Nara Pavão
(Political Science)

International Society for New Institutional Economics (ISNIE)

Shannon Drysdale Walsh
(Political Science)

Ciencia Mujer—Fourth International Conference of Latin American Women in Science
International Studies Association (ISA)

"The support provided by Kellogg has been vital to taking full advantage of my training here at Notre Dame. As a social scientist, I recognize that the first step to improving the world is to understand it—the importance of the Kellogg Institute in that endeavor cannot be overstressed."

—Julio Garin

Kellogg PhD Fellow

Dissertation Year Fellowships

These fellowships allow advanced Notre Dame PhD students across a range of disciplines to work on their dissertations.

Michael Driessen
(Political Science)

"Religion and Democratization in the Mediterranean"

Kathryn Gardner
(Political Science)

"Politicizing Religion: A Comparative Look at the Origins and Development of Muslim Incorporation Policies in France, Great Britain, and the United States, 1945–2008"

Lucas Gonzalez
(Political Science)

"Primus Contra Pares: Presidents, Governors, and the Politics of Distribution of Federal Resources in Argentina and Brazil"

Kunle Owolabi
(Political Science)

"The Colonial Origins of Dictatorship and Democracy: British Rule and the Post-Independence Regimes of the Caribbean and Africa"

Nicolás Somma
(Sociology)

"How Do Governments Shape Insurgency? Nation-States, Democracy, and Armed Insurgency in Post-Independence Latin America, 1820–1920"

Shannon Drysdale Walsh
Dorini Fellow
(Political Science)

"State Response to Violence Against Women in Latin America"

Graduate Research Grants

These grants enable graduate students to undertake exploratory research in international studies, as well as fill gaps in funding for established projects.

Bryce Horswell
(History)

"A World of Letters: The Jesuits and the Trans-Atlantic Slave Trade"

Chad Kiewiet de Jonge
(Political Science)

"Vote Buying in Uruguay"

Carlos Melendez
(Political Science)

"Vote Buying in Bolivia" (Fall 2009)

"Political Linkages and Voter Mobilization in Colombia" (Spring 2010)

Javier Osorio
(Political Science)

"Vote Buying in Chile"

Christopher Sullivan
(Political Science)

"State Surveillance and State Violence in Guatemala"

Laura Taylor
(Peace Studies/Psychology)

"Democracy, Conflict, and Civil Society: Examining the Microdynamics of Transitional Justice"

Rev. John Thiede, SJ
(Theology)

"The Concept of Martyrdom in the Christology of Jon Sobrino, SJ"

Brandon Vaidyanathan
(Sociology)

"Religion, Expatriation, and Virtual Migration: Negotiating Modernity in Dubai and Bangalore"

Research Fellowships in Latin American Literature

These fellowships support research by doctoral students in the PhD in Literature Program whose major area of emphasis is Latin American literature.

Maria Arenillas

"Time Set in Stone: Memory and Space in Argentina and Uruguay Post-Dictatorship"

Javier Mocarquer

"Politics and Fictions of Motherhood in the Southern Cone Women Writing: Gabriela Mistral (Chile), Clarice Lispector (Brazil), and Silvina Ocampo (Argentina)"

Sara Troyani

"Emigration Guidebooks and Italian-Latin American Identities after the Second World War"

Building Bridges

In addition to encouraging scholarly research and nurturing student learning, the Kellogg Institute strives to make linkages that will enhance international studies at Notre Dame and beyond. Inspired by the vision of Institute founder Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, CSC, such bridge building is a vital part of the Kellogg tradition.

Around the World

Fostering engagement around the world, the Institute seeks to link scholarship with real-world issues. In an innovative partnership with Uganda Martyrs University, the Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity links Notre Dame faculty and students to on-site development work in Uganda, where their efforts can effect positive change. In Latin America, the Institute celebrates the significant role public figures play in strengthening democracy and improving citizens' well being with the Notre Dame Prize for Distinguished Public Service in Latin America.

Uganda Partnerships

The Institute's Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity promotes the interdisciplinary study of international human development by:

- Enhancing teaching and learning opportunities for Notre Dame faculty and students (see pages 21-23, 26)
- Promoting research to examine the causes and consequences of poverty (see pages 7, 10)
- Engaging directly with local citizens to develop solutions to real-world problems in communities faced with challenges to human development

In Uganda, the Ford Program is partnering with Uganda Martyrs University (UMU) in an innovative model of cross-university partnership to address poverty in the nearby villages of Nnindy Parish. In a participatory planning process, the residents of Nnindy have identified development priorities and initial projects to be funded through the partnership:

- new water source construction paired with household water and sanitation training;
- demonstration farms for crop enhancement and seed distribution;
- strengthening of the local health clinic and village health teams.

Together with UMU, the Ford Program will learn from its engagement with local communities, undertaking demand-driven research and listening to residents as they mobilize for change. An additional project with UMU's Community Outreach Program aims to build capacity for sustainable development by addressing nutrition and agriculture in local schools and communities.

Latin American/North American Church Concerns

Founded and directed by Faculty Fellow REV. ROBERT PELTON, CSC, Latin American/North American Church Concerns (LANACC) seeks to educate US Catholics about Latin American Catholicism through films, public events, and publications.

In 2010 LANACC commemorated the 30th anniversary of the assassination of Archbishop Óscar Romero with the production of the film MONSEÑOR (Monseñor, the Last Journey of Óscar Romero). The brainchild of Pelton, the documentary tells the story of the last three years of the archbishop's life. It includes extracts from Romero's homilies and personal diary, and interviews with a cross section of Salvadorans.

Introduced by Pelton to an audience of campesinos at its world premiere in the cathedral of San Salvador on March 19, the film was shown at the University of Notre Dame on March 25. The US premiere was the culmination of LANACC's "Romero Days," Notre Dame's annual celebration of the life and work of Archbishop Romero.

The week also featured presentations by Bishop Alvaro Ramazzini, an outspoken advocate for the campesinos, immigrants, and landless people of Guatemala, as well as journalist and cinematographer Ana Carrigan, the associate producer of MONSEÑOR.

FOTO DIARIO CO LATINO/RODRIGO SURIA

Notre Dame Prize for Distinguished Public Service in Latin America

JOSÉ ZALAQUETT, professor of human rights at the University of Chile's Law School, was awarded the 2009 Notre Dame Prize for Distinguished Public Service in Latin America at La Moneda, Chile's presidential palace, on November 12 with Chilean Vice President Edmundo Perez-Yoma presiding over the ceremony.

A true visionary, Zalaquett connected the experience of voiceless Chileans—and of the voiceless elsewhere around the globe—to other, more fortunate citizens who cared about their fate. Their joint efforts gave birth to the modern human rights movement.

As a young lawyer, Zalaquett helped to create and lead the Vicaría de la Solidaridad, which defended those detained by the Pinochet regime and was one of the most visible opponents of the state's repressive policies. Exiled for ten years, he served in the leadership of Amnesty International and is widely credited with helping it become one of the world's foremost human rights organizations.

In newly democratic Chile, he was appointed a member of the National Commission for Truth and Reconciliation. His writings on transitional justice have since informed similar efforts around the world. A member and then president of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights of the Organization of American States, Zalaquett is the recipient of a MacArthur Foundation award, among many others, and holds an honorary degree from the University of Notre Dame.

Funded by The Coca-Cola Foundation, the Notre Dame Prize for Distinguished Public Service in Latin America honors Latin Americans whose work and commitment to public service has substantially furthered the interests and well being of people in the region. The laureate receives a $15,000 cash award with an equal amount donated to a charitable organization recommended by the recipient, thus advancing the work the Prize honors. In 2009 the University of Chile's Center for Human Rights received the matching award.

"Relentless in his search for truth and justice, [Zalaquett] drove us to work together on the basis of dialogue, mutual understanding, and respect towards others. His profound ethical strength facilitated rapprochement among different sectors, even among those who had been engaged in intense political struggles and other battles."

—Edmundo Perez-Yoma
Vice President, Chile

PHOTO BY MATT CASHORE

"We hope to keep alive the memory of Monseñor Romero, his fidelity to the gospel, and his passion for the lives and dignity of the poor. We wish to pass the baton to the youth of our world...to carry forth the message of Monseñor."

—Rev. Robert Pelton, CSC
Cathedral of San Salvador

Across Notre Dame

Within the University, the Institute plays a key role in developing opportunities for partnerships and synergies on Institute themes, bridging traditional divisions between disciplines and colleges and facilitating collaboration. Serving as a model for internationalization, the Institute serves as an incubator for new international initiatives at Notre Dame.

Asian Studies Initiative

An interdisciplinary Asian studies initiative funded by the US Department of Education and administered by the Kellogg Institute aims to advance Asian language and area studies at Notre Dame while it supports the University's mission to internationalize the campus's curriculum and intellectual life.

The initiative's launch in 2009 represents the culmination of a campus-wide collaborative effort facilitated by the Kellogg Institute in partnership with the College of Arts and Letters. Collaborators include the Center for Asian Studies, the Center for the Study of Languages and Cultures, the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, and the Institute for Scholarship in the Liberal Arts, as well as faculty in Anthropology, Business, Theology, and Film, Television, and Theatre.

Committed to Haiti

In the wake of the devastating earthquake that rocked Haiti on January 12, 2010, the Notre Dame community on campus and beyond came together to support a country and people with long ties to the Congregation of Holy Cross and the University. From the start, the Kellogg Institute has taken a leading role in facilitating the initiative known as "Committed to Haiti."

When President REV. JOHN JENKINS, CSC traveled to Haiti in March to explore how Notre Dame could aid in rebuilding the country, Kellogg Executive Director STEVE REIFENBERG and faculty fellows REV. TIMOTHY SCULLY, CSC, director of the Institute for Educational Initiatives, and

Program components include:

- New courses in Asian language and area studies
- Professional and curriculum development opportunities for faculty
- Regional mini-conferences
- Asia-specific library and language-learning resources
- New K-12 outreach to provide Asia-specific curriculum resources to teachers
- Undergraduate Summer Language Abroad opportunities in Asia (see page 25)

REV. THOMAS STREIT, CSC, director of the Haiti Program, accompanied him. Upon their return, Jenkins created an ad hoc committee to coordinate the University's long-term commitment to Haitian reconstruction. Chaired by Reifenberg, the group has facilitated communication and collaboration between faculty members from different disciplines who work on Haiti.

The Kellogg Institute's many years of experience bringing together faculty across disciplines made it a natural for this role. The committee has focused on creating opportunities for dialogue and constructive thinking about how to holistically and effectively engage different partnerships and areas of expertise in

The initiative is made possible by approximately $180,000 in funding from the US Department of Education, which awarded the Kellogg Institute an Undergraduate International Studies and Foreign Languages (UISFL) grant in 2009.

Project codirectors are SHARON SCHIERLING, associate director of the Kellogg Institute, and HOWARD GOLDBLATT, director of the Center for Asian Studies and research professor of Chinese. Faculty Fellow JONATHAN NOBLE, the Provost's advisor for Asia Initiatives, serves as chair of the project's faculty steering committee.

the University's efforts in Haiti.

Streit's staff has worked around the clock to administer emergency relief and rebuild the health program established in Haiti more than two decades ago that battles lymphatic filariasis (LF). Scully is bringing the experience of the University's Alliance for Catholic Education, which he cofounded, to bear in creating teacher training programs that build on the long-standing involvement of the Congregation of Holy Cross in Haiti's educational system. A website created with Kellogg Institute support tells the ongoing story of the effort: <http://committedtohaiti.nd.edu>.

Reentry Open House

Collaborating with international studies colleagues from around the University, the Kellogg Institute organized Notre Dame's second annual Reentry Open House in September. The event helps students integrate their summer and semester international experiences into their academic work. Hosted by the Institute, the event featured representatives from 17 centers, institutes, and departments and drew over 125 undergraduate attendees. (9/9/2009)

Quechua Culture Night

The music and culture of the Andes came to life in the Hesburgh Center's Great Hall in a mesmerizing presentation in February. INÉS CALLALLI, an instructor in the Latin American Indigenous Language Learning (LAILL) program administered by the Kellogg Institute, and a group of her language students shared the traditions of her native Peru with students, faculty and community members. Almost all their songs, dance, and skits were entirely in Quechua, the language of the Incan Empire still spoken today by 10 million indigenous people across Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru. (2/24/2010)

Reunion Weekend Open House

The Kellogg Institute put its best foot forward for an afternoon reception during Reunion Weekend. An array of posters drew attention to the Institute's work on democracy and human development issues around the world, and table displays highlighted key program areas. Most importantly, the majority of the Kellogg staff and several faculty fellows were on hand to engage in conversation with the more than 100 people who attended. Including both recent graduates and members of the class of 1960, the Reunion goers demonstrated a lively interest in the work of the Institute and a passion for international affairs. (6/4/2010)

"Making a Living, Making a Difference"

Cosponsored by the Kellogg Institute, the eighth annual "Making a Living, Making a Difference" event gave students and community members an inside look at employment in the nonprofit world. RAY OFFENHEISER '71, the president of Oxfam America and a member of the Kellogg Advisory Board, outlined his experience in poverty alleviation, human rights, and international development and encouraged students to pursue nonprofit careers that result in positive change. An information fair allowed students to talk with representatives from nonprofits about internship and job opportunities. (3/30/2010)

Public Policy

Grounded in an appreciation for the benefits of democratization, economic development, and organized civil society, the Institute's scholarship informs policymaking to improve the quality of life around the world. With research situated at the intersection between leading academic work and important policy issues in international studies, the Institute aims to project the University onto the global stage.

2009–10 Highlights

JEFFREY BERGSTRAND helped to provide the European Commission with a large-scale analysis of the effects of reducing non-tariff measures (NTMs) on EU-US international trade and investment. The study was the first systematic analysis of its kind.

He also gave an invited lecture at the Directorate General for Trade at the European Commission in Brussels in April. "Measuring the Impact of Free Trade Agreements on International Trade Flows" discussed a methodology that he developed with Scott Baier (partially funded by the Kellogg Institute) and published in the Journal of International Economics 77, 1 (2009).

DANIEL BRINKS advised senior legal staff of international financial institutions (IFIs) such as the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank on how to improve their evaluations of the developing world's legal systems at a high-profile roundtable in Washington, DC in March 2010.

Organized by the Center on Law and Globalization, the "Measuring Law: How to Do It Right in Real World Circumstances" roundtable challenged participants to think about ways in which the world's major development banks could improve their evaluations of the way the law works in the various countries they serve.

DOUGLASS CASSEL is one of ten experts from around the world invited by UNESCO and the Spanish Association for International Human Rights Law to help draft a proposed universal declaration of the human right to peace.

The drafting committee consists of two international experts from each of the five geographical regions represented at the United Nations. Ultimately, a draft of the peace declaration will be submitted to the United Nations Human Rights Council, with a recommendation that it be adopted by the General Assembly.

Cassel also took part in an October 2009 briefing for Congress, "Honduras: More than a Coup, a Challenge to US Policy in Latin America," asserting that there was no legal basis for the coup d'état in Honduras.

GEORGE LOPEZ testified on December 15, 2009 before the House Subcommittee on National Security and Foreign Affairs, arguing against the imposition of severe economic sanctions on Iran in an effort to halt its nuclear weapons program.

"The Inter-American Dialogue is committed to fostering exchange on some of Latin America's most pressing challenges. It is wonderful to work with the Kellogg Institute, which brings the best that academic research has to offer to these policy discussions."

—Michael Shifter
President, Inter-American Dialogue

SCOTT MAINWARING shared his expertise on the ebb and flow of democracy in Latin America with the State Department during a May 14 Washington, DC roundtable, "Prospects for Democracy in Latin America to 2015." With nine other experts on the region, he made presentations during a daylong event sponsored by the State Department and the National Intelligence Council and designed to give departmental staffers a nuanced picture of trends in the region.

More than half of the presenters have been visiting fellows at the Kellogg Institute. They included GRETCHEN HELMKE, MIRIAM KORNBLITH, STEVEN LEVITSKY, GERARDO MUNCK, and MITCHELL SELIGSON.

Public Policy

Fellows in Policy and Public Service

R. SCOTT APPLEBY cochaired a Chicago Council of Global Affairs task force examining the positive role that religions and people of faith can have in global relations. Including academics, policymakers, lawyers, and religious leaders, the group released the report “Engaging Religious Communities Abroad: A New Imperative for US Foreign Policy.”

JORGE BUSTAMANTE visited Japan in March in his capacity as United Nations Special Rapporteur on the human rights of migrants.

PAOLO CAROZZA, a member of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights (IACHR), observed the human rights situation in Honduras on an IACHR fact-finding mission in August 2009. The delegation released a preliminary report at the mission’s conclusion.

REV. DANIEL GROODY, CSC, was one of seven academic experts selected to participate in the Vatican’s sixth World Congress on the Pastoral Care of Migrants and Refugees.

SEMION LYANDRES was appointed commentator for Radio Liberty/Radio Europe in summer 2009.

JUAN RIVERA and former Visiting Fellow ADRIAN DE LEON ARIAS gave an invited presentation on the social venture model and sustainability of the Kellogg Institute’s successful Notre Dame–University of Guadalajara TIES partnership at the conference “Tools for Building Sustainable Partnerships,” organized by USAID and Higher Education for Development (HED) and held in Veracruz, Mexico, in October.

STEPHEN E. SILLIMAN was an invited panelist on energy and sustainability at the international engineering conference “Alternative Energy Applications: Option or Necessity,” held in Kuwait City, Kuwait in November.

REV. THOMAS STREIT, CSC met with former President Jimmy Carter and Mrs. Carter in October 2009 to brief them on Notre Dame’s social and health initiatives in Haiti. The meeting came in conjunction with the former president’s visit to Haiti and the Dominican Republic to urge political leaders in both countries to work together to rid Hispaniola, the island they share, of both malaria and lymphatic filariasis (also known as elephantiasis or LF).

J. SAMUEL VALENZUELA published three op-ed articles in the Chilean press on inter-American and Chilean political affairs.

Roundtables: Democracy in the Americas

Two events organized in fall 2009 by the Institute’s Hewlett Visiting Fellow for Public Policy, LUIS COSENZA, looked closely at democracy in the Americas.

“The Honduran Situation and Democracy in the Western Hemisphere”
September 23, 2009

An early fall roundtable considered questions arising out of the June removal from office of Manuel Zelaya, the democratically elected president of Honduras.

Cosenza, a Honduran who served as minister of the presidency in the administration of RICARDO MADURO, was joined by Faculty Fellow PAOLO CAROZZA, elected member and past chair of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights (IACHR), and Faculty Fellow DOUGLASS CASSEL, director of the Center for Civil and Human Rights and former member of the American Society of International Law Executive Council.

Bringing to the table the perspective of both the Honduran government and the international community, the fellows debated the constitutionality of Zelaya’s removal, the human rights situation in the country, and the implications for democracy in Honduras and elsewhere in Latin America. According to Carozza, the roots of the situation—and any solutions—lie in understanding citizens’ perceptions that democracy has not delivered.

“Latin American Democracy: Under Fire?”
October 29, 2009

Two prominent Latin American politicians joined Cosenza and Faculty Fellow DANIEL BRINKS for an October roundtable examining the state of democracy in Latin America a quarter century after democratization swept across the region.

CAROLINA BARCO ISAKSON, the Colombian ambassador to the US, was formerly minister of foreign affairs in Colombia. LUIS ERNESTO DERBEZ BAUTISTA, president of the University of the Americas in Puebla, previously served as Mexico’s minister of the economy. Both called for strong institutions to anchor the stronger governance necessary to build democracy and improve citizens’ lives in the region.

Brinks pointed out that support for democracy is still strong in many countries across the region, in spite of governments not having delivered on their promises. It remains to be seen whether new democratic experiments to bring in the previously excluded will succeed.

Public Outreach

The Kellogg Institute fosters the discussion of timely, real-world issues by scholars, public policy experts, students, and the general public with the aim of sparking dialogue and increasing knowledge of international affairs. Cultural events celebrate international traditions and introduce students and community members to other parts of the world.

Lecture Highlights

Reading by Junot Díaz

(10/7/2009)

JUNOT DÍAZ gave a well-attended public reading of his Pulitzer Prize-winning novel, The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao, followed by a spirited question and answer session. Díaz, who was born in the Dominican Republic, is the Rudge and Nancy Allen Professor of Writing at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His highly acclaimed fiction focuses on the Latino transborder experience. Kellogg Faculty Fellow MARISEL MORENO introduced the author, whose campus visit was cosponsored by the Kellogg Institute.

Paul Collier on Environment and "Bottom Billion"

(10/8/2009)

Special advisor to the Ford Program PAUL COLLIER gave the lecture "The Plundered Planet and Restoring Natural Order in the Bottom Billion" to an overflowing audience in the Hesburgh Auditorium. Connecting the ethics of stewardship of the environment to the issue of extreme poverty, he advocated using natural assets, carefully invested, to benefit the poorest of the poor—the "bottom billion"—in countries around the world. Professor of economics and director of the Centre for the Study of African Economies at the University of Oxford, Collier studies the causes and consequences of civil war, the effects of aid, and problems of democracy in low-income and resource-rich societies.

Public Opinion in Chinese Cyberspace

(10/15/09)

XIAO QIANG, the editor in chief of the China Digital Times, drew a diverse audience from across the University for his talk "The Rise of Online Public Opinion and Its Political Impact." Discussing the intense participation of the Chinese public in the blogosphere, he outlined activist strategies to evade official censors and government countermoves. The director of the China Internet Project and an adjunct professor of journalism at the University of California at Berkeley, Xiao Qiang is the recipient of a MacArthur Fellowship (the "Genius Award"). He left graduate study in astrophysics at Notre Dame to become a full-time human rights activist after the Tiananmen Square massacre in 1989.

Cynthia Enloe on Life after War

(2/25/2010)

In her provocative lecture "Picking Up the Pieces: Feminist Perspectives on Life after War," renowned feminist scholar CYNTHIA ENLOE explored the ongoing costs of war—after combat ceases—in the lives of women from Iraq and the US. Modeling the "feminist curiosity" that guides her work, she explored how a middle-class housewife from Bagdad becomes a prostitute in Syria and how a US mother's livelihood is upended by the return of her invalided soldier son. Enloe is Research Professor of International Development and Women's Studies at Clark University. The lecture was a joint presentation of the Kellogg Institute and the Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies.

Cultural Events

Carnival

(2/12/2010)

In February, the Kellogg Institute sponsored Notre Dame's 12th annual celebration of Brazilian Carnaval, complete with a Brazilian band and samba lessons. For many students and community members, such cultural events are their first introduction to Latin America and beyond.

World Refugee Day Celebration

(6/19/2010)

The Kellogg Institute and the Ford Program joined the local chapter of the American Red Cross in sponsoring the area's celebration of World Refugee Day. Held at Notre Dame's downtown South Bend center, the community event celebrated the cultural contributions of refugees from around the world with an international food festival, poetry, world music performances, and discussion of world affairs.

Local teachers say...

"Keep introducing more of these programs. I liked hearing about one man's success as a way to inspire my students and I was excited by the presenters' excitement. They made me feel like I was there."

"I want to thank you for giving me the opportunity to see the world!"

Outreach to Local Schools

Through an innovative outreach program to K–12 educators, the Kellogg Institute helps bring the world to local students. Connecting Notre Dame professors, undergraduates, and international visitors with teachers who teach about global issues in a range of fields, the program offers a variety of resources for classroom use.

Global Speakers Program

New in 2010, the Institute's Global Speakers Program matches Notre Dame students who have interned or studied abroad with local K-12 classrooms where they share their experiences and excitement about other parts of the world. In its inaugural year, the program matched student volunteers with six local schools, enhancing the education of over 500 students.

Perspectives Newsletters – Latin America and Africa

In these on-line newsletters, undergraduates who have gone abroad through Institute student programs share their international experiences with an eager audience—local K-12 students. The newsletters appear in fall and spring.

Video Lending Library

Teachers from around the country can take advantage of Kellogg's Video Lending Library, stocked with nearly 50 films and documentaries appropriate for high school students. A growing number of films on Africa join a rich collection on Latin America.

International Teacher Discussion Groups

These Kellogg Institute gatherings provide opportunities for K-12 teachers to discuss international topics and experience cultural activities with experts, international visitors, and peers who share their interests. In 2009–10, topics included:

"The Emergence of Genocide in Africa"

KARANA OLIVIER, Peace-building trainer and consultant

"The Land Left Behind: Remittances and Their Consequences"

LUIS COSENZA, Former Minister of the Presidency, Honduras

"Understanding Mexican Youth Today: Twentieth Century to Present"

JAIME PENSADO, Assistant Professor of History

"How I Spent My Summer: Students' Stories from Three Continents"

"Southern Summers: Students' Stories from Latin America"

"Clase de Cocinar: A Latin American Cooking Class"

Traveling Trunks of the World

The Traveling Trunks Program provides supplemental resources to teachers who wish to make other parts of the world come alive for their students. Each trunk gives children the opportunity to learn in a hands-on way about the rich cultural heritage of a given region of Africa or Latin America—through music, instruments, artifacts, maps, and other materials.

Latin America

Ancient Civilizations	Cuba and the Caribbean
Andean Region	Mexico and Central America
Brazil	Southern Cone

Africa

East Africa
West Africa

Acknowledgement of Financial Support

The Kellogg Institute sincerely appreciates the financial support of the following organizations and individuals. Without this generous support, Kellogg would not be able to provide the diversity of programs or events to the academic community, to students both at Notre Dame and beyond, and to the policymaking community.

The Kellogg Institute

The Coca-Cola Company

Support for Democratic Governance in Latin America project (page 11)

The Coca-Cola Foundation

The Notre Dame Prize for Distinguished Public Service in Latin America (page 29)

Dorini Endowment

Dissertation Year Fellowship (page 27)

Fundação Luso-Americana para o Desenvolvimento (FLAD)

George Monteiro Prizes (page 24)

Library acquisitions

Preparation of conference volume for future publication

Roberto Garza Fund

Undergraduate internship in Mexico (page 23)

Mobility, Society, and Governance in North America (MGSNA) Oaxaca Workshop (page 25)

Garza PhD Fellowships for Mexican Students (page 26)

Hewlett Endowment

Visiting Fellows Program (pages 8–9)

Ryan Kerrigan

Director's Discretionary Fund—Kellogg Institute PhD Fellowships (page 26)

F. Joseph and Deborah Loughrey

Director's Discretionary Fund—Kellogg Institute PhD Fellowships (page 26)

Sabine MacCormack

Latin American Indigenous Language Learning Program (page 25)

Mark McGrath

Director's Discretionary Fund

—Business on the Front Lines (page 26)

—Engineering students' service trip to Ecuador

Sullivan Endowment

Lecture Series (page 18)

Tom Tinsley

Director's Discretionary Fund—Kellogg Institute PhD Fellowships (page 26)

US Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB)

Considine Award (page 24)

US Department of Education—Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education (FIPSE)

Mobility, Society, and Governance in North America Exchange (MSGNA) Program (page 25)

US Department of Education—Undergraduate International Studies and Foreign Language Program (UISFL)

Asian studies initiative (page 30)

—Course development (page 6)

—Church in Asia conference (page 12)

—Undergraduate summer language abroad awards (page 25)

—Library acquisitions (page 30)

Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity

Anita Finie

Program development and implementation (pages 10, 28)

John C. Fogarty

Exploratory health project by Notre Dame alumnus and medical student

Ford Family Endowment

Program development and implementation, faculty support, lecture series, administration (pages 7, 10, 18–19, 28)

Kevin and Eileen Heneghan Fund

Uganda partnerships (page 28)

F. Joseph and Deborah Loughrey Fund

Uganda partnerships (page 28)

Lumina Foundation

F. Joseph and Deborah Loughrey Fund

MCJ Amelior Foundation

Program development and implementation, events, administration, faculty and staff travel (pages 10, 18–19, 28)

Michael and Anne Murray

Uganda partnerships (page 28)

Robert and Lindy Reilly

Program development and implementation (pages 10, 28)

Sieben Foundation

Uganda Martyrs University Community Outreach Program (page 28)

Fiscal Year 2009–10

July 1, 2009– June 30, 2010

Revenue

Annual Drawdowns

Endowment payout
Kellogg	$ 2,512,292
Strategic Investment Fund	247,214
Dorini	16,000
Hewlett	50,443
Sullivan	4,152
Latin American Indigenous Language Learning (LAILL)	19,312
Subtotal	2,849,413

Gifts and Grants

Individual Gifts	25,000
Roberto Garza Fund	24,071

Grants

The Coca-Cola Company/Coca-Cola Foundation	69,775
Fundação Luso-Americana para o Desenvolvimento (FLAD)	3,479
US Department of Education (FIPSE)	31,658
US Department of Education (UISFL)	34,593
Subtotal	188,576

Ford Program

Ford Family Endowment	139,501
Ford Program Gifts	10,362
Heneghan Fund	20,025
MCJ Amelior Foundation	173,317
President's Circle	60,785
Sieben Foundation	21,500
Subtotal	425,490

Total $ 3,463,479

Expenditures

	Endowment Spending	% of Total	Gifts & Grants	% of Total	Total	% of Total
Faculty Support	$681,232	23%	$14,933	3%	$696,165	20%
Faculty Salaries & Benefits	414,687		0		414,687
Faculty Recruiting	5,337		0		5,337
Faculty Research Support	233,348		7,262		240,610
Working Groups	10,907		0		10,907
Academic Conferences & Workshops	16,953		7,671		24,624
Visiting Fellows	$548,595	18%	$6,172	1%	$554,767	16%
Student Support	$459,826	15%	$107,033	23%	$566,859	16%
Graduate Fellowships & Grants	187,876		36,001		223,877
Undergraduate Research Awards	16,854		9,900		26,754
Undergraduate Internships	175,916		12,718		188,634
International Scholars Program	10,033		0		10,033
Undergraduate Academic Program Support	10,217		1,723		11,940
Study Abroad/ Exchange Programs	41,577		10,129		51,706
Undergraduate Curriculum Development	7,510		18,706		26,216
Student Conferences & Events	9,843		17,856		27,699
Events/Outreach	$165,304	6%	$70,738	15%	$236,042	7%
Lectures & Public Events	110,771		69,134		179,905
K-12 & Local Outreach	3,103		0		3,103
Intramural Grants	10,850		1,604		12,454
Publications	40,580		0		40,580
Projects/Partnerships	$79,403	3%	$103,399	22%	$182,802	5%
Community Engagement	2,155		10,152		12,307
Program/Project Development	27,573		24,846		52,419
Institutional Collaboration/ Grant Implementation	49,675		68,401		118,076
Facilities and Administration	$1,054,552	35%	$172,292	36%	$1,226,844	36%
Staff Salaries & Benefits	940,177		167,763		1,107,940
Student Salaries	19,801		1,971		21,772
Administrative Services & Supplies	36,531		1,430		37,961
Computer Equipment & Supplies	16,891		1,128		18,019
Building Services & Supplies	29,464		0		29,464
Seminar Rooms Renovation - Furniture	11,688		0		11,688
Total Expenditures	$2,988,912	100%	$474,567	100%	$3,463,479	100%

The People of the Kellogg Institute

Faculty Fellows 2009–10

Africana Studies

Dianne M. Pinderhughes
Professor of Political Science and Africana Studies

Anthropology

Susan D. Blum
Professor

Catherine Bolten
Assistant Professor

Rev. Patrick Gaffney, csc
Associate Professor

Daniel H. Lende
Assistant Professor

Carolyn R. Nordstrom
Professor

Rahul Oka
Assistant Professor

Vania Smith-Oka
Nancy O'Neill Assistant Professor of Anthropology

Biological Sciences

Rev. Tom Streit, csc
Research Assistant Professor

Center for Asian Studies

Jonathan Scott Noble
Provost's Advisor for Asia Initiatives
Associate Director, Center for Asian Studies; Codirector, Business and Culture Program in China

Civil Engineering and Geological Sciences

Stephen E. Silliman
Professor

East Asian Languages and Cultures

Lionel M. Jensen
Associate Professor
Concurrent Associate Professor of History

Economics and Policy Studies

Rev. Ernest Bartell, csc
Professor Emeritus

Amitava Krishna Dutt
Professor

Kwan S. Kim
Professor

Jaime Ros
Professor
Director, Latin American Studies

Economics and Econometrics

Simeon Alder
Assistant Professor

Kirk Doran
Assistant Professor

William N. Evans
Keough-Hesburgh Professor of Economics
Director of Research, Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity

Thomas Gresik
Professor

Richard A. Jensen
Professor and Chair

Molly Lipscomb
Assistant Professor

Nelson Mark
Alfred C. Decrane Jr. Professor of International Economics
Concurrent Professor of Finance

Christopher J. Waller
Gilbert Schaefer Professor of Economics

History

R. Scott Appleby
Professor
John M. Regan Jr. Director, Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies

Ted Beatty
Associate Professor

Karen Graubart
Associate Professor

Semion Lyandres
Associate Professor

Sabine G. MacCormack
Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, csc, Professor of Arts and Letters
Professor of History and Classics

Jaime Pensado
Assistant Professor

Institute for Latino Studies

Allert Brown-Gort
Associate Director

Karen Richman
Director, Center for Migration and Border Studies, Institute for Latino Studies

Law School

Paolo G. Carozza
Professor

Douglass Cassel
Professor
Director, Center for Civil and Human Rights

Mary Ellen O'Connell
Robert and Marion Short Professor of Law

Mendoza College of Business

Viva Bartkus
Associate Professor of Management

Jeffrey H. Bergstrand
Professor of Finance

Georges Enderle
John T. Ryan Jr. Chair in International Business Ethics

Juan M. Rivera
Associate Professor of Accountancy

Katherine Sredl
Assistant Professor of Marketing

Lee A. Tavis
C. R. Smith Emeritus Professor of Finance

Political Science

Daniel Brinks
Associate Professor
Concurrent Professor of Law

Michael Coppedge
Professor

Rev. Robert Dowd, csc
Assistant Professor
Director, Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity

Andrew Gould
Associate Professor

Alexandra Guisinger
Assistant Professor

Frances Hagopian
Associate Professor

Victoria Tin-Bor Hui
Assistant Professor

Debra Javeline
Associate Professor

Robert C. Johansen
Professor

Rev. William M. Lies, csc
Concurrent Associate Professional Specialist
Executive Director, Center for Social Concerns

George A. Lopez
Professor
Theodore M. Hesburgh, csc, Chair in Peace Studies

Scott P. Mainwaring
Eugene P. and Helen Conley Professor of Political Science
Director, Helen Kellogg Institute for International Studies

A. James McAdams
William M. Scholl Professor of International Affairs
Director, Nanovic Institute for European Studies

Rev. Sean McGraw, csc
Assistant Professor

Anthony M. Messina
Associate Professor

Monika Nalepa
Assistant Professor

Guillermo O'Donnell
Professor Emeritus
Senior Fellow, Kellogg Institute for International Studies

Rev. Timothy R. Scully, csc
Professor
Director, Institute for Educational Initiatives

Naunihal Singh
Assistant Professor

Vineeta Yadav
Assistant Professor

Romance Languages and Literatures

Samuel Amago
Associate Professor

Thomas Anderson
Associate Professor

Patricio Boyer
Assistant Professor

Isabel Ferreira Gould
Assistant Professor
Director, Portuguese Language Program

Ben Heller
Associate Professor

Kristine Ibsen
Michael P. Grace II Professor of Latin American Studies

Marisel Moreno
Assistant Professor

María Rosa Olivera-Williams
Associate Professor

Juan Vitulli
Assistant Professor

Sociology

Jorge A. Bustamante
Eugene Conley Professor of Sociology

Gilberto Cárdenas
Professor; Julián Samora Chair in Latino Studies
Director, Institute for Latino Studies

Robert Fishman
Professor

Lyn Spillman
Associate Professor

J. Samuel Valenzuela
Professor

Theology

Rev. Virgilio Elizondo
Notre Dame Professor of Pastoral and Hispanic Theology

Rev. Daniel Groody, csc
Associate Professor
Director of The Center for Latino Spirituality and Culture, Institute for Latino Studies

Rev. Gustavo Gutiérrez, OP
John Cardinal O'Hara Professor of Theology

Rev. Paul V. Kollman, csc
Associate Professor

Rev. Robert Pelton, csc
Concurrent Professor
Director, Latin American/North American Church Concerns
Director Emeritus, Institute for Pastoral and Social Ministry

Lawrence E. Sullivan
Professor
Concurrent Professor of Anthropology

Kellogg Support of Hiring Initiatives

Involvement in the recruitment, hiring, and retention of faculty members is one of the most important ways the Kellogg Institute supports teaching and research at Notre Dame.

The role the Institute plays in each search varies. It may include targeting of positions critical to the Kellogg research agenda, personal outreach to the Institute's wide network of scholars, partial financial support of new positions, and research support to new faculty. Once at Notre Dame, new faculty members join the supportive Kellogg community of scholars.

In 2009–10, five scholars hired through Kellogg "memoranda of understanding" with three University departments began their Notre Dame careers: SIMEON ALDER (economics), CATHERINE BOLTEN (anthropology and peace studies), DANIEL BRINKS (political science), MOLLY LIPSCOMB (economics), and RAHUL OKA (anthropology). Brinks's research focuses on the longstanding Kellogg theme of democratization. Alder, Bolten, Lipscomb, and Oka study issues of international development and have been involved in the work of the Ford Family Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity.

A sixth scholar, economist JOSEPH KABOSKI, hired in the spring with Kellogg Institute research support, begins his career at Notre Dame in fall 2010.

Faculty Committee 2009–10

Rev. Ernest Bartell, csc

Jeffrey H. Bergstrand

Susan D. Blum

Daniel Brinks

Michael Coppedge

Robert Fishman

Karen Graubart

Lionel M. Jensen

Sabine G. MacCormack

Carolyn R. Nordstrom

Rev. Timothy R. Scully, csc

J. Samuel Valenzuela

Kellogg Institute Staff 2009–10

Directors

Scott Mainwaring
Director

Steve Reifenberg
Executive Director

Sharon Schierling
Associate Director

Holly Rivers
Assistant Director

Rev. Robert Dowd, csc
Ford Program Director

Staff

Judy Bartlett
IT Operations and Planning Engineer

Reneé Carlson
Business Manager

Therese Hanlon
Events Program Manager

Dean Hartke
Publications Program Manager

Peg Hartman
Senior Administrative Assistant

Esther Horswell
Events Assistant

Lacey Haussamen
Ford Program Assistant Director for Community Engagement

Wendy Hurley
Administrative Assistant, Student Programs

Hannah Kim
Staff Accountant

Kristi Lax-Walker
Ford Program Administrative Assistant

David Nyanzi
Ford Program Assistant Director of Research

Anne Pillai
K-12 Outreach Coordinator

Anthony Pohlen
Ford Program Assistant Director for Administrative and Academic Affairs

Elizabeth Rankin
Writer/Editor

Carly Reust
Administrative Assistant

Denise Wright
Program Coordinator, Visiting Fellow and Graduate Student Programs

"The Kellogg Institute has provided some of my best experiences at Notre Dame."

—Alexandra Guisinger
Assistant Professor of Political Science

The People of the Kellogg Institute

Advisory Board 2009-10

Mark McGrath (Chair)
Senior Advisor, Gleacher and Company
Director Emeritus, McKinsey & Company

Santiago Aranguren
Director of Business Development,
Arancia Industrial SA de CV

Rodrigo Calderón
Vice President, Public Affairs & Communications,
Coca-Cola Latin America

Eowyn Ford
Health Insurance Specialist,
Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services,
US Department of Health and Human Services

Matthew R. Ford
Associate, Bartlit Beck Herman Palenchar
& Scott LLP

Roberto Garza Delgado
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer,
Gard Corporation

Wendy Hunter
Associate Professor of Government,
University of Texas at Austin

Brian A. Kenney
Chairman, President, and Chief Executive Officer,
GATX

Tara Kenney
Managing Director,
Deutsche Asset Management, Inc.

Ryan Kerrigan
Managing Director, Origination, Serent Capital

Joe Loughrey
Former Vice Chairman of the Board and President/
COO, Cummins Inc.

Ricardo Maduro Joest
President, Inversiones la Paz
President of Honduras (2002-06)

Alvaro Martinez-Fonts
CEO Florida, JPMorgan Private Banking

Raymond C. Offenheiser, Jr.
President, Oxfam America

Lindy Reilly

Rev. Timothy Scully, csc
Professor of Political Science,
University of Notre Dame

Tom Tinsley
Managing Director, General Atlantic LLC

Deborah J. Yashar
Professor of Politics and International Affairs
Princeton University

"I am excited about the possibilities for Kellogg and Notre Dame to build on the great work already done in order to make real contributions to some incredibly pressing international challenges. Kellogg's outstanding faculty research, innovative educational initiatives, and multiple efforts to build bridges from the University into the world provide the opportunity for the Institute to be a significant player on the global front."

—Joe Loughrey

What are the Prospects for New Democracies?

What Factors Explain Economic Growth, Development, and Welfare in a Globalizing Economy?

How Can Government Policy Foster Social Well-being?

How Does Religion Shape Public Life?

What Fosters a Vigorous Civil Society?

The Helen Kellogg Institute for International Studies

The Helen Kellogg Institute for International Studies
University of Notre Dame
130 Hesburgh Center
Notre Dame, Indiana 46556-5677
574 / 631-6580
574 / 631-6717 (FAX)

kellogg.nd.edu

