

Father Ernie:

Thanks for being my roommate our last semester in 1953, although our original plan was to rent from a professor who upon becoming engaged decided not to live with tenants--your top room pick served us well. As I remember, walking to Tilman's just before 10pm room check for a beer and a braunshweiger and onion sandwich on rye with you and Gerry Keeley was a great way to end a day of studying. Also, Sue and I are grateful for your part in officiating at our wedding. Little of your life work was anticipated when I visited you in the Novitiate in Jordan in 1955. As valedictorian of our class, you did not disappoint. Congratulations on this well deserved tribute. I am sorry I could not be there.
