

At the center of the Kellogg Institute's activities are its faculty fellows—more than 100 faculty members from 21 academic departments, centers, institutes, and schools across the University—who engage in research on the Institute's core themes of democracy and human development, as well as international topics more broadly.

What can I do as a Kellogg Faculty Fellow?

- Join us at our monthly fellows luncheon. Good contacts, good conversation, and good food! Meet other Kellogg faculty fellows, visiting fellows, and doctoral student fellows. Luncheons are held at noon on the first Monday of each month during the academic year.

- Apply for a grant:

- Further your research with a Kellogg research grant
- Organize a research conference, workshop, or event such as a lecture, seminar, or film series related to the Kellogg themes of democracy and human development.
- Take your students on an international field trip, supported in part by an international educational opportunity grant
- Explore Faculty Grant Opportunities on our website (kellogg.nd.edu/facultygrants).
