

March 10, 2017

Fr. Bob Pelton represents for me a theologian who remembers that without the church on the ground, theology has no content. His work and his life is a needed reminder that doing theology is ultimately about reflecting upon how God is present in history here and now. I am so grateful for his work, his generosity, his mentoring and his humility.

Thomas M. Kelly